Legislature Disposes Of Side Issues

Decks Cleared For Action on Budget, Schools, Highways

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The 100th General Assembly started to jell today as various side issues were killed.

The House Welfare Committee put its "no" on a bill to allow citizens to look at public asistance rolls. The Senate Judiciary Committee killed a proposal to put legalized bingo on the ballot next fall.

These were the two major developments as the Legislature Wednesday night began to get down to the essential business of the session—the budget, highway and school problems.

The bill by Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen) patterned after an Indiana measure which caused a national ruckus two years ago—would have required quarterly reports to county and township officials on the names and addresses of public assistance clients.

The House Welfare Committee killed the Senate-approved bill 13-2. A Republican move for reconsideration in the House is possible.

The bingo measure, by Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) was admittedly a shot in the dark. Shaw told newsmen when he offered the proposed constitutional amendment he had no interest in it other than a hope the issue could be brought out into the open and put to the voters if the legislature desired.

The General Assembly, in 1943, inserted a clause in Ohio's anti-gambling law permitting lotteries if they were for no one's profit.

But it is in apparent contradiction of an Ohio constitutional provision that lotteries " shall be forever prohibited" in Ohio. There never has been a Supreme Court decision on the issue.

Action on the relief rolls and and bingo measures capped a legislative day which saw the Senate defeat two measures and the Senate majority Republican leader take a blast at lobbyists.

Given Silver Beaver At Annual Harding Area Council Dinner

Presentation of the Silver Beaver award, to L. Otis Porter of Marion highlighted the annual fellowship dinner of the Harding Area Boy Scout Council at the Masonic Hall Wednesday night before some 240 persons.

The Silver Beaver is the highest award to Scouters made by the council and is presented annually to one man in the four-county Council area in recogition of outstanding service to boyhood.

Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co., received the award and scroll from Roy Shipton, council treasurer. Wallace Beebe, a member of the council's executive board read the citation. Porter was escorted by Eagle Scout Darrell Bibler of Troop 60, Bucyrus, to the court of honor where past Silver Beaver winners grouped for the ceremony.

Ike Hopes To Cut Budget $8½ Billion

$5 Billion to Come Off Truman Estimate On Arms Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reportedly laid before legislative leaders today preliminary proposals to whack approximately 8½ billion dollars of former President Truman's budget.

Lawmakers who sat in on the discussion at the White House said the tentative cuts would include a reduction of about five billion dollars in Truman's proposals for military spending.

Reductions of $1,800,000,000 in foreign aid, $1,200,000,000 in domestic spending and $250,000,000 in atomic projects also were discussed.

Eisenhower was said to have emphasized the approximate 8½ billion cuts under the Truman $78,-60,000,000 spending program for the year beginning July 1 were only preliminary and would be reviewed later. Truman figured defense spending at $46,300,000,.

Truman proposed spending $2,-70,000,00 for atomic energy and $7,861,,000 on foreign assistance.

Lawmakers who attended the conference said it was their impression that the proposed 8½ billion dollar cuts would make it possible to balance the so - called "cash" budget in the next fiscal year.

This budget is based on what the Treasury actually pays out and takes in, including social security and similar receipts which go into trust funds.

The proposed cut, however, would leave the regular budget out of balance more than 1½ billion dollars, since tax revenues for the fiscal year were estimated at $68,-665,000,000 by Truman.

Earlier, at the White House, conferees had said the cuts contemplated would be "right on the edge" of balancing the budget.

Some of the 35 repatriated prisoners who arrived at Travis Air Base, Calif., Wednesday from Japan walk off the ambulance plane which brought them from Honolulu on the final leg of their overseas hop home. Insist On Non-Asiatic Caretaker

Truce Talks Stalled On Disposition Of 32,000 Red Koreans

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Allies warned the Communists today they might take a short cut through the snarled prisoner exchange problem by simply releasing 32,000 North Koreans who don't want to go home.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied negotiator, said that turning the prisoners free in South Korea would follow a pattern created by the Reds themselves.

He also told the Communists to nominate a non-Asian country as neutral caretaker for 48,000 Communist prisoners who don't want to go home and made it clear the Allies would discuss little else until that's done.

In an unproductive, 51-minute meeting, Harrison said that choosing the neutral caretaker nation must come next. He added:

"All Asian nations are located very close to countries dominated by Communists and might therefore be subjected to Communist military, economic or political influence."

The delegations meet again Friday at 11 a.m.

Harrison told newsmen the Communists "talk a lot about concessions, but on the vital point of ultimate disposition of prisoners there has been no concession of any kind."

He repeated his contention that

The defeated bills:

A measure by Sen. Raymond Hildebrand (R-Lucas) to reduce the maximum hours a city fireman may be on duty from 72 to 63 hours a week.

A proposal by Sen. Harry E. Davis (R-Cuyahoga) to provide for election of the 17 House members from Cuyahoga County from sub-districts within the county.

The blast at lobbyists came from Sen. C. Stanley Mechem who told the Senate immediately after defeat of the firemen's hours bill'

"I dont' like the lobbying that has been going on on this bill behind the railing (which separates the Senate floor proper from the rest of the chamber). I don't want those things to continue. That type of lobbying was one of the things which helped defeat the bill."

One senator, Lowell Fess (R-Greene), told newsmen he had intended to vote for the measure reducing firemen's hours until proponents of the bill button-holed him during debate.

"That made me mad," he added. He voted against the bill.

The Senate passed three other bills and the House eight. None was of a major nature.

Both houses headed home today after noon sessions which saw action on another flock of minor bills.

REPORTER BEATEN

CLEVELAND (AP)—Helen Waterhouse, veteran reporter for the Akron Beacon Journal, was severely beaten by a prowler in her apartment early today.

The man fled after striking her on the head several times.

Incorporation Papers Drawn Up for Pool

Cost Estimated At $175,000; Could Be Cut by Donations

Incorporation papers for a Marion Community Recreation Center were drawn up at a meeting Wednesday night of local residents who are working with the city's teen-agers for a community outdoor swimming pool.

The papers which will be filed with the Secretary of State at Columbus, will permit the formation of the non-profit organization for the purpose of building, operating and maintaining a swimming pool and other recreational facilities for all people of Marion.

Estimated construction cost of the pool tentatively drawn up which would run some $175,000 could be cut almost in half by the donations from local citizens, Marshall Browne, publicity chairman for the pool backers, reported last night. Services offered by several Marion industries, materials at cost, and labor donated by members of the community should slash the construction estimate considerably, he said.

Preliminary plans call for a pool capacity of at least 1,000 persons per day and would cover some 165 feet in length and a width of 80 feet. The T-shaped pool would feature a roped-off diving area and graduated depths starting at three feet. The estimated construction cost includes the main pool, fenced-in wading pool for small children, lighting system, bathhouse facilities cost of the pool site, landscaping and engineering costs.

Offers have been made by two engineering companies and one architectual firm to donate their facilities and equipment for drawing up final plans for the pool. Other offers of complete excavation, water pumps at manufacturer's cost, roofing material and electrical wiring at cost from con-

Beatty Sale Total May Reach $4,000

Final figure of the amount realized from the public auction sale yesterday of the furniture and art pieces of the late Mrs. Olive A. Beatty was not expected to be available until late today, Bernard C. Moloney, executor of the estate, said.

Moloney estimated that the total will approach the appraisal figures of $2,016 for the household goods and antiques and $1,195 for the collection of paintings. Knittle and Rose of Ashland and Canton were the auctioneers.

The sale attracted many antique collectors, some from out of the state, An estimated 300 persons had gathered in the Beatty home on S. Vine St. by noon.

Mrs. Beatty died last fall and willed a large share of her estate to a fund for animals and birds. Some $21,000 was left to her church and friends. The will, however, has been challenged by a group of distant relatives who claim it was not her last will. A hearing on their request the will be set aside and that they be judged the heirs will probably not be heard before fall in Common Pleas Court.

Board of Managers have received the whole-hearted approval of the Marion Police Department and the county sheriff as a means of cutting down the amount of bad checks passed in Marion.

Known as a telephone chain warning system, the plan received its first test this week when a local merchant reported a bad check had been passed in his store. Within 10 minutes after the bad check artist made the touch, 70 C of C members had been warned the man was in town. They had been armed with a description of his clothing and also his physical appearance.

Police Chief Tom Coon Wednesday night gave his approval of the plan and urged that it be expanded. He along with Patrolman Z. G McClenathan spoke at a meeting of business men in east hall at Harding High School.

Coon spoke of bad check artists and described their methods of operating, how to spot them, methods used in their apprehension and ways of avoiding cashing a bad check. He listed alertness on the part of the merchants as the top method of avoiding trouble. He listed several plans which aid in apprehending the men after the checks have been passed.

McClenathan spoke on shoplifting and described various types of shoplifters. He also explained to the merchants methods used in making an arrest and ways of detecting the shoplifters before any loss is incurred.

A spokesman for the Chamber explained the warning system op-

Speak at Women Voters Forum

Candidates Give Views On Solving City Problems

By EVELYN KRISTOFF

Spirited participation by audience and candidates during the discussion period marked the candidates meeting Wednesday night in the State Street Junior High School.

Sponsored by the Marion League of Women Voters, the meeting attracted a comparatively small audience of approximately 100 persons and 20 out of 30 candidates who will appear on the primary ballots.

Most of the candiates were in agreement that "something should be done" about solving the traffic problem, about the elimination of railroad crossing, and about providing an adequate sewer system, but there were differences of opinion as to the best methods to be used to achieve these objectives.

Here are some of the candidates' comments on the traffic problem.

Robert G. Haldeman, candidate for re-election to Council, thought that perhaps the employment of a city traffic engineer or a traffic engineering firm to conduct a traffic survey and make recommendations would be the best solution.

John F. Williams, candidate for Councilman, believed that more time should be devoted to traffic control before definite steps are taken. He did not believe it was necessary to call in outside help to solve the problem, citing simple measures like enforcing the law against double parking and creating three lanes of traffic at downtown intersections to alleviate the current problems.

About the elimination of the railroad crossings, some of the candidates' comments were:

Harold Smith, candidate for re-election to Council, agreed that elimination of the crossings was desired, but he asked Marionites to be realistic in their thinking about the subject and ask themselves where the 23 million dollars necessary for the project could be ob-

AMONG FIRST RETURNING POWS. Carried on a litter, Pfc. Herman Smith, of Mousie, Ky., leaves a stratocruiser that brought the first 35 repatriated prisoners of war home from Korea to Travis Air Force base, 65 miles north of San Francisco. There were eight other stretcher cases, but none required any immediate special treatment.

Physically Fit Get Quick Furloughs

First 12 POWs Flying To U.S. Homes Today

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Twelve American fighting men who may never fight again sped to their homes in the far corners of the U. S. today.

They are the vanguard of the first 35 repatriated POWs to reach home from Korea.

More will fly out of this sprawling air base later today and tomorrow. And another 63 will be borne swiftly across the Pacific in giant C97 Stratocruisers.

A few of those who arrived here yesterday aren't going home immediately. They are going to hospitals where doctors will try to mend their shattered bodies and broken minds.

Yesterday's repatriates were happy—but they cringed from the welcome that awaited them.

Before they left the plane they sent out the word—"We don't want to talk to any reporters. We have talked enough already."

Then the 26 walking wounded filed off the big plane. They walked straight to a waiting bus. Some smiled, some waved, all looked around curiously.

Little emotion showed on their faces. But strain was there, and pain, and the lines carved deep by war and captivity.

White-jacketed medics then went aboard and brought out the nine litter patients. An amputee, a man with tuberculosis, a soldier who couldn't bend his leg.

While the litter cases were being carried tenderly into a huge ambulance, there was a sudden commotion by the bus.

Pvt. Jose Garcia, blinded in one eye by the blast of a Communist grenade, slammed down a window and greeted his kid brother Alfonso in a tearful, joyous reunion.

Alfonso had reached the field late and got lost in the milling crowd. He finally spotted his brother and pounded the bus to attract attention.

Throughout the afternoon the two brothers stayed close together. They left together last night for home. After a 30-day leave Pvt. Garcia will go into an Army hospital. Days, weeks, or months later he will come out and start life over.

The bus and the ambulance moved slowly, almost gently, across the base to the bright new hospital.

Reporters, cameramen, television technicians, enthusiastic bystanders followed in droves.

For nearly two hours the men were kept in seclusion. Navy, Air Force and Army doctors checked them over, deciding who needed immediate, specialized care . . . who could be sent to hospitals near their homes . . . who could be released at once on 30-day leaves.

The men ate two-inch steaks and talked to doctors and caught a welcome 40 winks.

Then five repatriates were ushered into the hospital auditorium. Two were litter cases. They were placed in hospital beds [illegible] by newspaper, TV and newsreel cameramen and reporters. The other three were seated.

The barrage of questions began—questions that had been asked and answered in Panmunjom, Fredom Village, Tokyo, Honolulu. Questions that must be answered again when they reach home.

Merl Young Is Sentenced

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Merl Young today was sentenced to serve from four months to two years in prison for lying to senators who dug into his mink coat buying and high financing while investigating alleged influence on RFC loans.

Young, 38, asked for probation but U. S. District Judge Matthew F. McGuire turned down the plea. However, the judge expressed the hope authorities will feel the interests of justice have been served when Young completes four months in prison.

Taking into account good time, Young could get out by serving a little less than four months.

Young told Judge McGuire he has "suffered mentally, physically and financially." He said the judge would not regret it if he granted probation.

The judge replied that if Young had ben convicted of an ordinary crime flowing out of human frailty, he would have been inclined to grant him probation.

"But perjury strikes very deeply at the whole structure of government," the judge commented.

cial airliner today and tearfully rushed into the arms of his wife and four-year-old son.

Under hazy skies, the 23-year-old sergeant stepped from the plane and gave his wife, Ruth, and son, Jackie, tremendous hugs.

Kelley was wearing dark glasses and tears trickled down his cheeks.

His mother, Mrs. Sylvia Kelley, who is celebrating her 55th birthday in a big way today, and his three sisters then surrounded the Ashland soldier in a wave of kisses and hugs.

Kelley wore a bandage on one finger of his left hand and there was a scar under his left eye. He said he was a little tired and wanted to get to his home as soon as possible.

His wife carried a new, extra large wedding ring in her handbag.

Kelley's wedding ring disappeared after he was captured by the Reds in Korea. When his wife heard about it, she went to a jewelry store and bought a new one, size 12, "to be sure it was big enough."

The soldier's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Kelley, was celebrating a birthday today, but was quite calm as she waited for her son's arrival.

Asked what plans had been made for a reunion, she said "I guess we'll go home and just talk. I'm going to get him ta good dinner."

The family drove to Cleveland Hopkins Airport from Ashland when they learned he was due in by commercial airliner from Travis Air Force Base, where he was given a 30-day furlough.

The sisters were Mrs. Clifford Butdorf of Savanah, Mrs. William Anderson of Nankin and Miss Judy Kelley of Ashland. Another sister, Mrs. June Stover, remained in Ashland.

2 Ohio Projects In Flood Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Hope of the House Agriculture Committe Wednesday placed befor a subcommittee a $28,706,000 program to stop floods on upstream watersheds.

The Ohio projects called for by the program were $120,000 for Rocky Fork in Highland, Ross, Fayette and Clinton Counties, and $50,000 for Yellow Creek in Summit and Medina counties.

Says Ohio May Lose Hospital Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio may lose $180,149 in federal matching funds for hospital construction financed over a period of years.

Roy L. Harlow, chief finance officer of the U. S. Public Health Service, in his testimony before the House Appropriations Committe Wednesday, did not indicate which hospitals would be affected.

the Red proposals would indirectly force prisoners to choose between return against their will or endless captivity.

Meanwhile, Rear Adm. John C. Daniel said liaison officers of both sides would meet at 10 a.m. Friday to discuss problems concerning exchange of disabled prisoners. He did not say what the problems were.

The Communists have said that 684 disabled Allied prisoners (including 149 Americans) turned over last week were all the disabled they had. But those prisoners told of more sick and wounded Allied prisoners in North Korean camps.

List of 63 more Americans leaving Tokyo for the U. S. today by plane is carried on page 9. In addition, names of 81 Allied troops said still in a North Korean prison camp are listed on page 30.

The Allies have been returning 500 Red sick and wounded daily. Delivery of 250 Chinese and 250 North Koreans Friday will bring the total of returned Reds to about 6,000, almost 200 more than were promised.

At Munsan, 500 sick and wounded Reds threatened Allied guards in a short-lived rebellion on a hospital train taking them to Panmunjom for return to communism. The 375 civilian internees and 125 North Korean soldiers finally quieted before they were unloaded for the ambulance ride from Munsan to Panmunjom.

The same problem that broke up the armistice talks last Oct. 8 remains:

Although it's agreed that prisoners who want to go home will be sent back immediately after an armistice, what of the 48,000 who refuse repatriation.

Harding High Concert to Be Given Tonight

Tonight at 8:15 at the Palace Theater, the Harding High School band and orchestra will present a joint concert.

Under the direction of Homer Huffman, with George Lane assisting, the two musical organizations will present programs of overtures, marches, medleys of modern songs and special novelty numbers.

The band has a membership of about 85, while the orchestra has about 60 pieces.

Tickets for the concert, sponsored by the Band and Orchestra Parents Association, will be available at the door of the theater tonight. They are priced at $1 for adults and 60 cents for students.

Global TV Possible, Says Engineer

Describes Midget Crystal Amplifying Device to Industry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The dream of global television may be brought to reality by the new midget crystal amplifying devices called transistors, an industry enginer told broadcasters today.

Neal McNaughton, manager of enginering for the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, said use of transistors in cables might make it possible to transmit TV programs across water gaps too wide to be jumped by microwave radio beams.

"The answer,' he said at the enginering conference of the association's annual convention, "lies in a submarine transistor cable using a transistor repeater unit—smaller than a cigaret—to augment microwave relays between the continents of the world."

Network transmission of TV programs over long distances now is handled by two methods—microwave radio beams relayed between hilltop or mountaintop towers averaging 25 miles apart, and underground coaxial cables. Neither method, however, will work over long water gaps.

Even though a microwave radio beam easily travels far enough to bridge the longest water gap necessary on a route connecting this country with Europe, it travels in a straight line and does not follow the earth's curvature.

The coaxial cable requires repeater or amplifier stations every few miles to strengthen the signal. Such cables could not be operated under the ocean for long distances because of the high electric current requirements of present type repeaters using vacuum tubes.

McNaughton explained that transistors, requiring only a small fraction as much current, might make it possible to develop underwater cables that would bridge the water gaps and connect with microwave facilities covering land portions of the route.

Church Speakers to Tell Of Experiences Abroad

Miss Richardson

Speakers returned recently from a tour of mission stations in the Orient and Greece, Miss Lois E. Richardson and Miss Carrie M. Hazzard, will be heard on Friday night at Greenwood EUB Church. They are taking part in the four-day missionary rally here under auspices of the Oriental Missionary Society. Their work has been especially among young people, and they will tell of their experiences during their time abroad. Other speakers to be heard Saturday night and Sunday are Mrs. Julia Fitch and her son, Lloyd, and the Rev. Dale McClain.

Bellevue Woman Speaks At Crestline Meeting

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE — Mrs. Rosemary Meyers, of the Wishmakers House, in Bellevue, gave an informative talk on "Interior Decorating" at the meeting of the Progressive Mothers Club, in the home of Mrs. Richard Helfrich here, Monday night. Mrs. Vernon Walbrath was co-hostess.

Roll call was responded to with "A Decorative Idea". Mrs. Earl Fletcher conducted devotionals. Mrs. Russel Tuttle presided.

Robert Holman, temporary chairman of civil defense spoke briefly and urged the club to do their part. Mrs. Fletcher gave a report of the recent meeting of the board of education she attended. Mrs. Clinton Shrech, gave a detailed report of the convention recently held in Upper Sandusky.

Mrs. Tuttle appointed Mrs. Schrech, Mrs. Harriet Webster and Mrs. Robert Taylor as a nominating committee for the election of officers at the next meeting.

The prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Helfrich and donated by Mrs. Tuttle.

Farm Prices Still Falling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prices farmers get for their products have skidded again.

The Agriculture Department reported yesterday farm product prices dropped 2 per cent between mid-March and mid-April to land at a point 10½ per cent below that of a year ago.

The decline was the biggest in any one month since the Eisenhower administration took office. There had previously been a long decline, extending well back into the Truman administration, but in the preceding month prices had climbed back one-third of 1 per cent.

Cattle, milk, some grains and vegetables were among the price losers. Hogs, lambs, eggs and rice went up, but not enough to offset the losses.

Tells Court Wife Loved Another, Is Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Viveca Lindfors' husband won a divorce on testimony that "she was in love with another man."

Movie director Donald Siegel also told a court yesterday the Swedish actress was "quite inhuman" by poking fun at Western films he made.

The couple married in Paris in 1949 and "she played hot and cold with me for a year and half, first saying she was in love with another man, then saying she loved me," Siegel said. "But last Christmas she told me finally, and cruelly, she was in love with another man and wanted a divorce."

His corroborating witness, actor Tom Tully, gave this analysis of the triangle:

"I think she was in love with both men—it just depended on where she happened to be. If she was in New York she was in love with the other fellow; in Hollywood it was her husband."

The "other man" was not named. Miss Lindfors, now in New York, waived alimony but will receive $50 monthly support for their baby son, Christopher, who will live with her.

Not All Is Forgiven

An inconspicuous news dispatch says Harry Truman and family are on their way home from Hawaii, aboard the President Cleveland. They will return to the family homestead in Independence, Mo. Mr. Truman, a former president of the United States, is rested from his exhausting labors and reports he has been doing a lot of thinking, also some work on his memoirs.

This is the same Mr. Truman whose name was in the news continuously from early in 1945 until last Jan. 20—nearly eight years. During that time, he was made to feel a sense of responsibility for everything that happened in the United States and many things which happened outside the United States. He was on the spot.

In the approximately 100 days since he dropped out of the news, it has been evident that Mr. Truman was not personally to blame for everything that had happened. The same discovery was made under similar circumstances about Herbert Hoover when he dropped out of the news in the springtime of 1932.

It may be made about Dwight Eisenhower sometime.

The American people make a practice of using their presidents alternately as witch doctors and scapegoats. First, they believe the presidents can do everything, then they believe they can do nothing.

They alternately ascribe all good and all evil to one man, an absurd practice described as fantastic when the Russians do it. But Americans are not immune to the same temptation to oversimplify their tough, abstract problems by personalizing them and beating them to death with sticks, in much the same way as more primitive societies used to "drive out devils."

In any event it's nice to know that Harry Truman, lately President of the United States, has had a good vacation in Hawaii. He now can settle down to being an elder statesman, like the only other living ex-president, Mr.

Purpose Sincere

By David Lawrence

Test Will Show Weakness in New Loyalty Order

Every administration is entitled to a chance to deal with new problems in its own way—provided it does not reject out of hand pointed lessons of experience.

The new loyalty and security program announced by the Eisenhower administration is drastic in some respects and lenient in others. About the only way the procedures will be finally evaluated will be by tests in individual cases as they arise.

Certainly nobody who examines the long, technical executive order issued by the President—prepared after many weks of soul-searching study by his subordinates in the Department of Justice and the Civil Service Commission—will say that it is soft so far as Communists in government are concerned.

If anything, it is a bit tough on the individual employe, who can in a case of abuse be thrown out of his job because he doesn't happen to play up to the whims of his department or agency head. He will have no right of formal review above the department or agency in which he has been employed.

There is not to be a Loyalty Review Board now, as there was under the Truman administration. Hence there will be no regular system of post-audit of individual cases of suspected disloyalty where a department or agency has "cleared" an employe of charges.

The reason given for abandoning the Loyalty Review Board is that there was no provision of law to permit its functioning. But the Loyalty Review Board was always an "advisory" board and final responsibility rested with the department or agency head.

In no case under the Truman administration was the Loyalty Review Board reversed by a department or agency head. The only instance occurred in the Vincent case under the present administration, when Secretary Dulles reversed the Loyalty Review Board, saying he had the legal right to do so—which was, of course, correct.

It isn't necessary for such a review board to have power to dismiss ineligibles, but under the last administration it was an unwritten law that the president would stand back of the Loyalty Review Board's recommendation.

Under the present administration the plan from the beginning has been to alter the whole setup and to the effectiveness of the procedures and that provision is made for study of defects.

Experience may show that it is desirable also to create some sort of review system inside the Civil Service Commission, so that a technical staff may review and take action on the proceedings in any case before the departments or agencies where security or loyalty cases have been considered.

There now is a disposition in the new setup to avoid the word "loyalty" altogether and make dismissals entirely on a "security" basis, with the elements of "unsuitability" strongly imbedded in the meaning of the word "security." It is recognized that any immoral or dishonest person or individual of loose habits generally might become the victim of pressure or blackmail by agents of foreign governments. So "security" covers a multitude of sins.

In general, the new program deserves a fair trial. Its weaknesses will become apparent as experience increases.

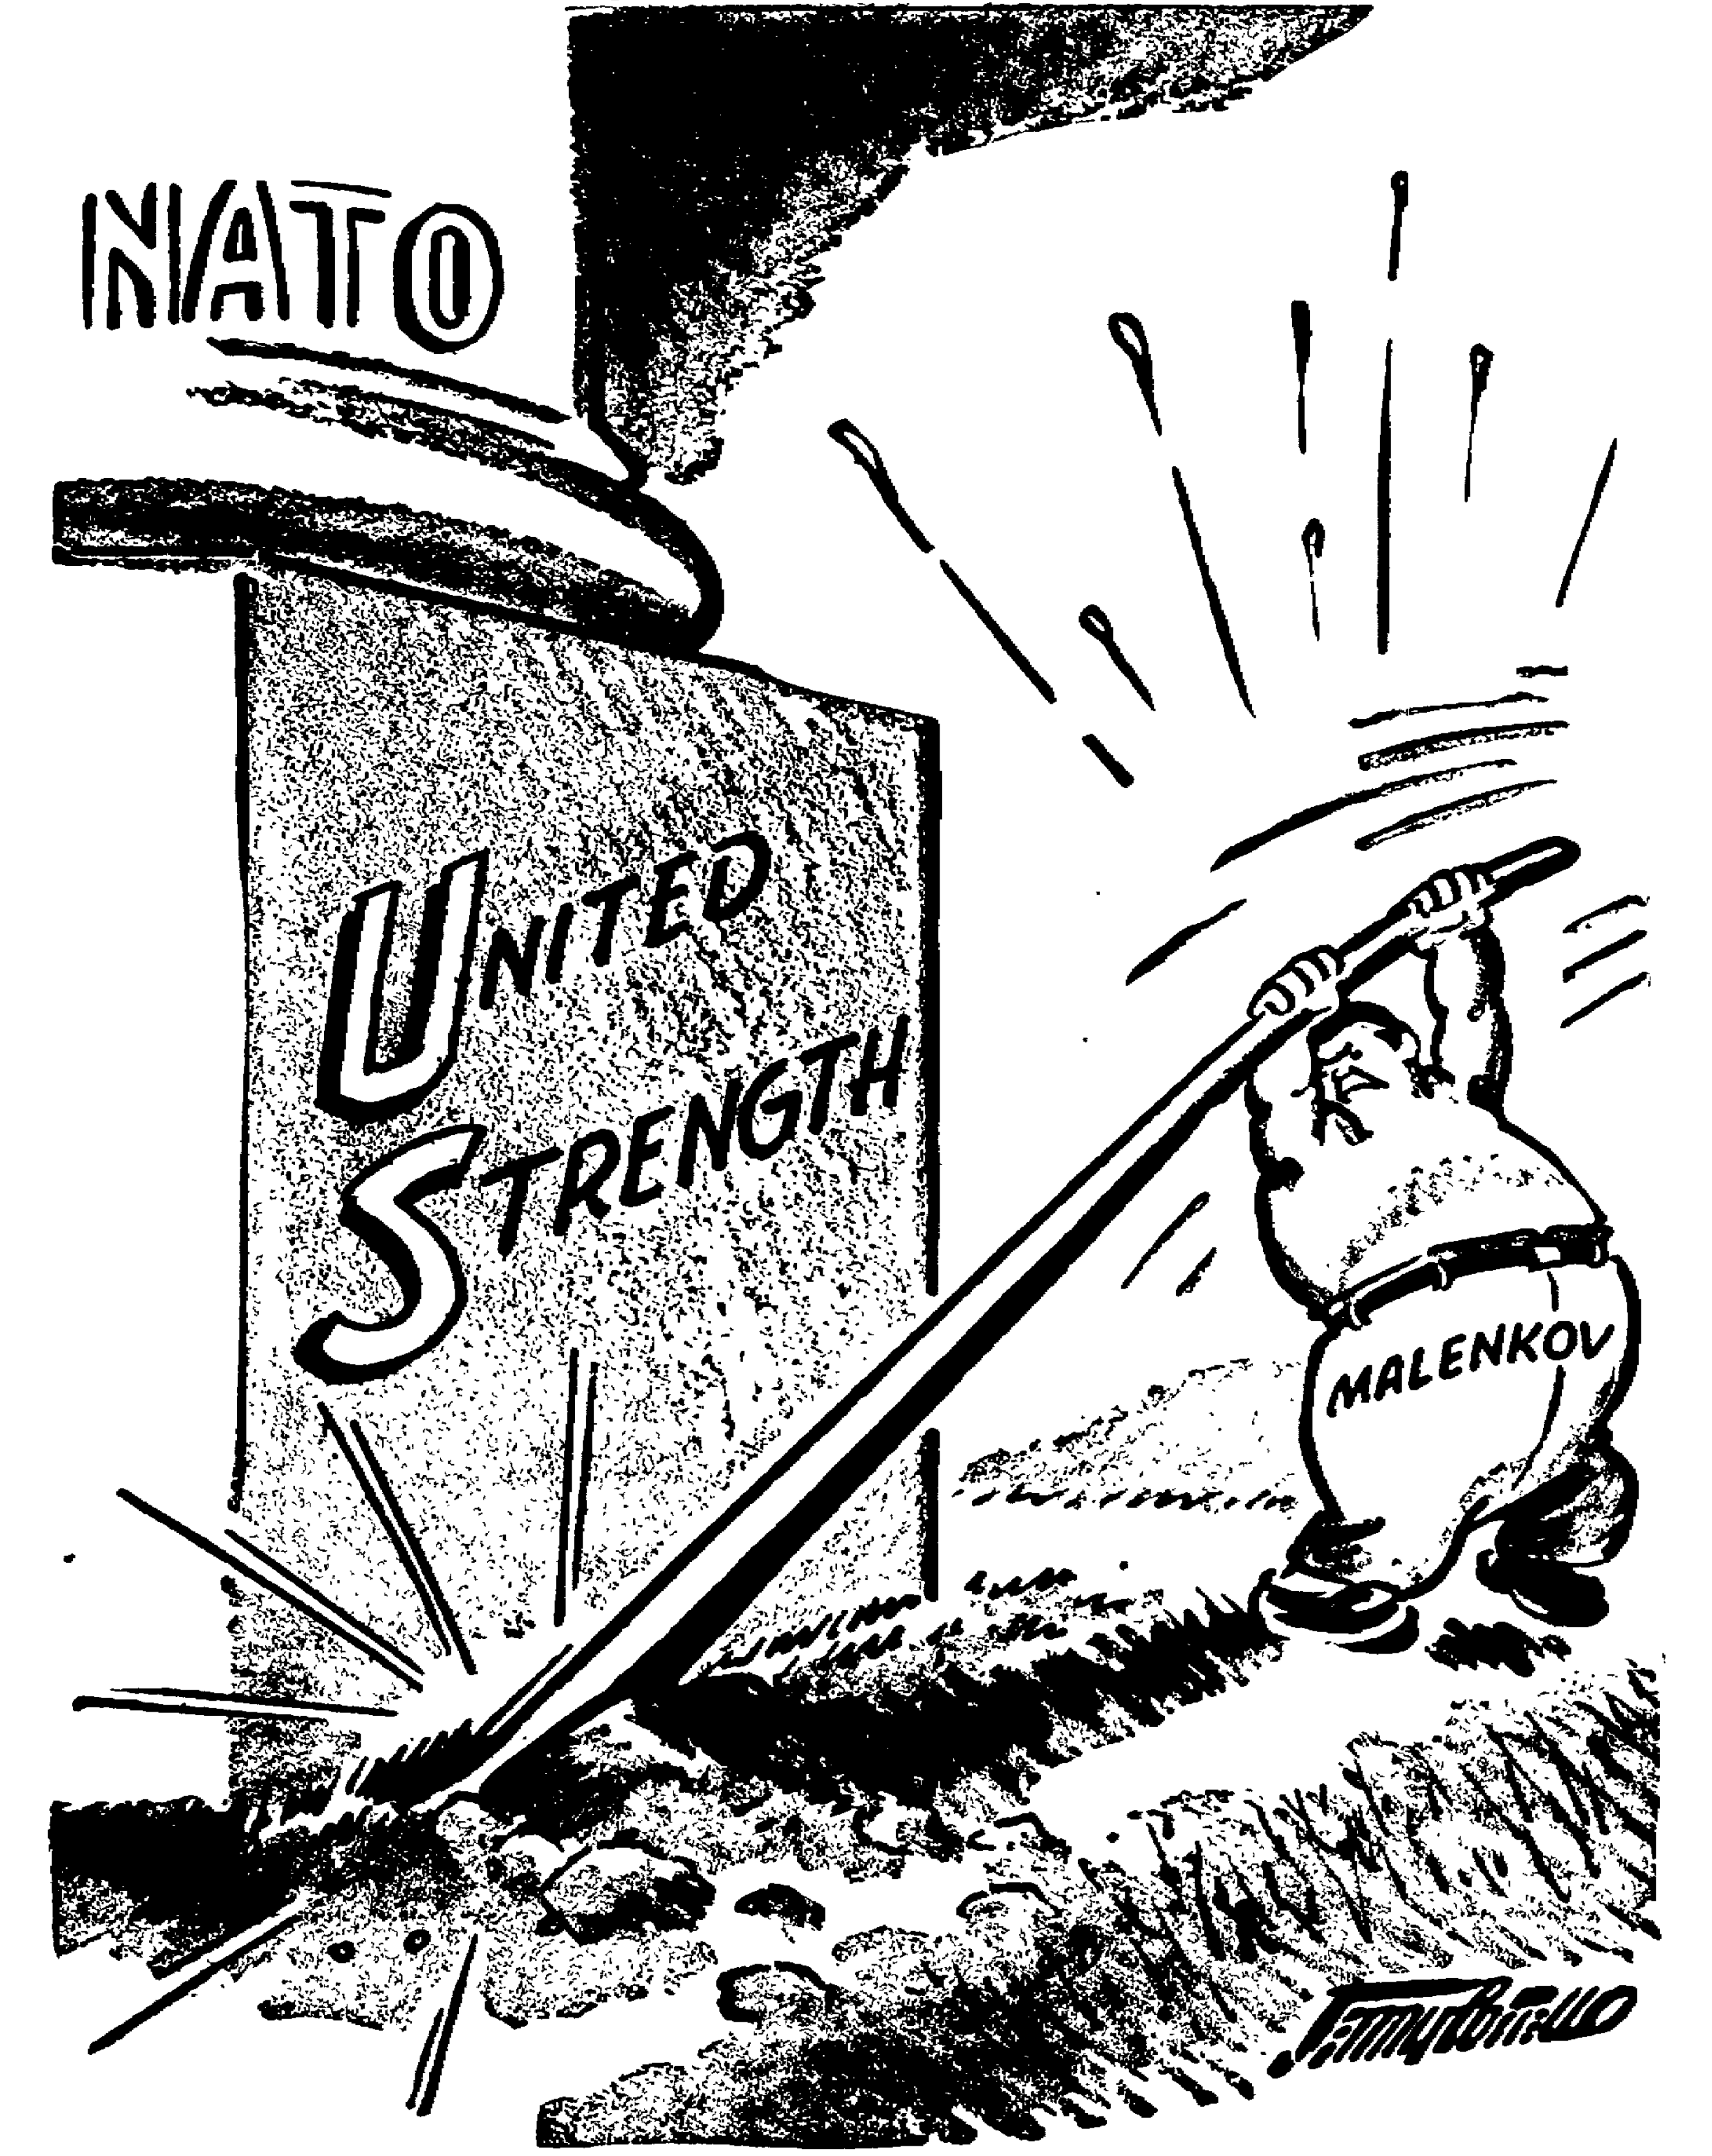
Since the motivation of the present administration is to expose or remove bad security risks and not to conceal or try to defend them, as some officials in the State Department felt it was their duty to do under the last administration, there is every reason to believe that, if defects in the procedures arise, they will soon be corrected.

The one big weakness—the unfamiliarity of persons chosen to act as security boards in 60 different agencies with the ways and techniques of Communists and fellow travelers—cannot be corrected until the new administration gets its fingers burned by specific cases.

The Communist will lie about his connections, he will vilify his critics, he will cry out loudly about constitutional rights and how they are violated under McCarthyism and "witch hunts," and yet at the same time he will be a secret member of a Communist organization confident that he will not be caught. Or he will refuse to do his duty as a citizen and reveal his knowledge of criminal conspiracies even when he himself may not have been a part of such conspiracies.

It will not be easy to educate all the newcomers on the security boards to the tricks of the Communists—but the Eisenhower administration is going to try to erect as many safeguards as possible against gullibility or deception.

Danger! Man at Work



Eisenhower Has Safe Senate Margin

By Jay G. Hayden

While the alignment of individuals by no means will be duplicated on other issues, the 56-to-33 vote by which the Senate declared for state, rather than federal, ownership of off-shore oil deposits comes very close to measuring President Eisenhower's basic support in that body.

This roll call was important because it was a showdown on the question picked by the Democratic national high command for its man, Hill, Kefauver and Gore.

Of nine Republicans voting paired or announced for the Anderson substitute, Senators Langer Young, Aiken, Tobey, Malone of Nevada are individualists frequently at odds with their party leadership in the past. Senators Case, Cooper, Griswold, Wiley are usually regular Republicans who dissented on this particular oil-ownership issue.

The one senator who totally applicable to Hawaiian statehood, was one reason why the Southern Democrats balked at voting for cloture to break the offshore oil filibuster. The southerners objected even to a proposal by Sen. Taft to advance the oil bill by offering an undebatable motion to lay the Anderson substitute on the table, because that device also might be employed to break filibusters involving racial equality.

Another issue on which Mr. Eisenhower may be in for trouble is

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Bring Back That Yacht

President Eisenhower has given up the presidential yacht, practically sinking it in two putts. He used the overlapping grip, kept his head down; followed through perfectly and smacked the vessel so hard he put a backspin on it. Ike says he did it for economical reasons, but he can't fool us. The truth is he sees no point in having a yacht until they construct adequate channels between golf holes.

But be that as it may we think that if the President's physician was on the job he would step in and order Ike to keep the yacht. In his own interest and that of the country the President should do less golfing and more yachting.

Golf is a strain on any man, no matter how much fun he thinks it brings him. It has broken down kings, princes, diplomats, industrial tycoons, scientists and physicial giants, but up to now our presidents could take it or leave it alone.

Any time a president flies to Georgia for golf, flies back to Washington for a speech, hurries to a ball game and flies back to the golf course, stopping on the way for another speech as he recently did, he is inviting trouble.

The wonder is not that he was put to bed but that he ever got up. You're carrying golf too far, Ike, and should be compelled by doctor's orders (and if necessary by congressional vote) to spend a little time on that yacht. When aboard ship your stance means nothing, it makes no difference which arm you keep straight and it's impossible to get up to your neck in tall grass.

There is nothing to do but relax, tell the boys where the cocktail shaker is, check on the ice, watch the seagulls and see that the brasswork is kept polished. If you must keep up with the Jones boys, Mister President, split your loyalties somewhere between Bobby Jones and John Paul.

We would like to see a national referendum conducted on whether Ike should play so much golf or keep the Williamsburg in commission, and we think the yacht would win. The people are getting worried over the pace Ike is setting. They want him calm, cool and collected, not hot, bothered and frustrated. They would be happier if they knew he was getting more rest.

A boat, even if it is only an eight-foot rowboat, should be a must for every golfer over fifty. We know from experience. We played golf for years without a 200-foot yacht and look at the shape we are in! It offers one of the very few escapes from the perils of the office foursome and the week-end match.

Golf can make a man feel low, futile and inefficient. A yacht makes him feel high, successful and above worries, especially if the government foots the bills.

Come on, Ike, how about abandoning a couple together sometime and compare notes on scapegoating in Washington, D. C.

More Schine and Cohn

One of the bits of information about disloyalty gathered on the fly and brought home from Europe by Sen. McCarthy's juvenile supersleuths, Schine and Cohn, was the news that Germany's newspapers are taking freedom of the press seriously.

Schine and Cohn reported that some of the papers had been criticizing President Eisenhower and even Sen. McCarthy. The latter promptly passed along this information to Secretary of State Dulles.

The idea of passing it along to Dulles was to put the State Department on the spot because it operates a revolving fund for the benefit of German newspapers. The purpose of this fund is to give the newspapers financial independence from their former, owners, all Nazis.

Naturally, Communists and Fascists had charged the U.S. loans would make it impossible for the beneficiaries to reflect anything but U.S. views. When the newspapers practiced freedom of the press, the Communists and Fascists were discredited.

They now have turned hopeful again, thanks to Sen. McCarthy, the only member of Congress who operates his bureau of foreign bad will.

Beware: Lobbyists at Work

Every so often the buzz-buzz of the legislative session in Columbus is punctuated by this warning scream—"Lobbyists!"

This is supposed to warn the watching public that one side or the other has been caught committing a misdemeanor. Lobbyists have a bad name.

But whether it's Congress, the Ohio General Assembly, or some lesser legislative body, lobbying is part of the game. It needs to be understood.

First of all, both sides in every argument have lobbies. Therefore, accusations are meaningless. For instance, in the issue over whether or not interstate truckers should pay a fairer share of the cost of the roads they use, truckers have just as tough a lobby as railroads, which are accused by the truckers of fighting dirty.

Second, there's nothing wrong with lobbying, unless lobbyists get out of bounds and try to bribe legislators. They have a perfect right to make the best and strongest case they can make for their side.

Third, the tactics of a lobby do not necessarily reflect the merit or lack of merit in some particular point of view. Some of the best causes get black eyes from the excesses of their lobbyists. The historic example of this was the wild-eyed lobbying which did irreparable harm to the campaign to win votes for women. A modern example is the excessive zeal of volunteer lobbyists in danger of making it appear that a difference of opinion in the United States has become disloyalty to the American way of life.

Yelps, shrieks and screams about lobbyists are being heard once more from the direction of Columbus. They will continue until June 1, when the General Assembly expects to finish its biennial task of balancing pressure groups against one another. They are not to be taken seriously.

eliminate the review-board system. This now has been embodied in the executive order.

There are some administration officials who point out that the Civil Service Commission, under the new executive order, may create advisory boards or committes to make recommendations as

A sincere purpose is being manifested by those who have the responsibility at the Department of Justice and the Civil Service Commission to make the new program accomplish the desired end—to drive Communists and their auxiliaries out of government.

So It's Crazy

By TRUMAN TWILL

Don't say it's crazy to feel this way because I can't help it, but—

I think women should wear tailored suits for all public appearances, except when formal gowns are customary;

There should be a health regulation barring smoking in restaurants;

Speculation about what is going on among inner-circle politicos of Russia should be as scarce in the press as speculation about the same kind of people in Madagascar;

The defacing of the landscape anywhere in the United States for any reason should have to be justified before a board of public examiners, who would decide whether or not the hurt to all the people should be put ahead of the benefit to some of the people;

Violations of decency and safety in the sale of alcoholic beverages should be charged to the manufacturers of the beverages, who then would have a powerful incentive to clean their own houses at their own expense;

Every automobile should be equipped by law with a breaker switch which would disconnect itself on an impact of a certain violence, thus stranding high and dry all drivers who flee from the scene of their accidents;

Things should be called by their right names at all times, such as filibusters in the U. S. Senate carried on by anti-filibusters;

The sports-minded public is fed to the teeth with hokum stories about sprained ligaments, fragile noses, sore arms, trick knees and spavined legs, which now are standard equipment for men who formerly were called athletes;

The tooth-flashing personality pitch among male and female songbirds has been worn out and the public now wants vocalists who will do nothing but sing;

If a telephone call hasn't been answered after five rings, it's time to give it up as a bad job;

When preachers begin to make sermons about some of the "investigations" in Washington, it's time to take notice because people take preachers seriously, as Harry Truman learned;

The most heavily-taxed necessity in the United States is the automobile, and automobile owners have the least to show for their taxes;

The smartest idea in industry at the moment is being turned to good use by one of the country's great corporations, which is finding out in advance what the public will buy, instead of letting its big shots decide what they think the public should want to buy, because big shots can't be objective;

Removal of excess fat by surgery will not be completely successful until surgeons can work inside the human head;

Source of the trouble about daylight-saving time is the fact the time zones were made too wide in the first place. There should be eight zones, instead of four, with a half hour's difference between each one.

Church Fire Problem

WILSONVILLE, Neb. (AP)—Members of the Wilsonville Methodist Church are hoping that the third time will prove a charm and that their new church will last for a while. Three times in the past 50 years the congregation has built a new church. The first two burned down; the third is now in use. The new one has asbestos siding and fireproof roofing plus "a lot of fire insurance," according to Clarence Treat, who headed the building committee.

first all-out partisan opposition effort. Over nearly four weeks, Democrats of the New and Fair Deal stamp, plus the deserter from Eisenhower Republicanism — Sen. Morse — had poured out some 300,000 oratorical words in effort to stir popular protest against what they term the "tidelands steal."

But on their most attractive amendment, proposing exclusive federal stewardship over the submerged oil deposits with all governmental revenues derived from them earmarked for state-controlled education, they mustered barely more than one-third of the Senate.

The line-up was revealing for the future mainly because it emphasized as still intact the combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats which dominated congressional action on almost all domestic issues during President Roosevelt's last six years and all of President Truman's tenure.

Voting or paired in favor of state tideland control were 40 Republicans and 18 Democrats. Of the Democrats, 15 were from the 10 states of the no longer so solid "Solid South," plus Sens. McCarran, Hunt and Clements.

Voting, paired or announced in favor of the substitute, offered by Sen. Anderson, a former cabinet member under Truman, were 27 Democrats, nine Republicans and Sen. Morse.

Of the Democrats in the latter group, all supported Roosevelt or Truman, or both of them, more often than not excepting Sens. McClelland and Fulbright. The only other southerners voting for the substitute were Senators Spark-shore oil question was Robert S. Kerr, an arch New and Fair Dealer, but also an oil multi-millionaire.

There are other issues as to which the Republican-Southern Democratic union will not hold, but the voting result still may approximate this first 58 to 37 division in favor of President Eisenhower.

For example, on Hawaiian statehood the Southern Democrats are a leading element of opposition. But on that issue enough Democrats from the North and West favor the Eisenhower statehood bill to insure its passage. In that case the New and Fair Deal Democrats may be found working Sen. Taft to break a Southern filibuster.

Fear of establishing a precedent, his requested extension for one year, with no amendment, of the Reciprocal Foreign Trade Agreements Act. But in that case the opposition comes from a combination of Republicans and Democrats, mostly from the Middle and Far West, with Southern Democrats and Eastern Republicans in support of the Eisenhower position and certainly constituting a majority of the Senate.

The House, rather than the Senate, is the biggest obstacle to the foreign trade program.

The main criticism of Eisenhower up to now has been based on the contention that he has been too deferential to Congress. But in the long run this may prove the maneuver most beneficial to his essential objectives.

Lost Purse-String

By Steffan Andrews

The comptroller general of the United States is warning the nation's lawmakers that the biggest problem facing Congress today is that it has lost "control of the purse."

This somber warning is voiced by Comptroller Lindsay C. Warren to senior lawmakers at closed-door hearings of the House and Senate appropriations subcommittees.

Warren says that he is "appalled" at the vast amount of spending—most of the time wasteful spending — by federal government agencies without any authority whatever from Congress.

"The things we have seen, in many cases, show conclusively, gentlemen," he told a closed-door session of a House subcommittee, "just how Congress has sat here over the years and given up control of the purse.

"But even in cases where congressional control is not given up, the departments and agencies sometimes go merrily ahead, ignoring what Congress has decided."

Warren said that he was not certain at the moment whether anything could be done to stop the practice, but he warned solemnly that: "Something certainly should be done."

As examples of the flagrant case of wasteful spending he has recently encountered, he cited:

1—About $2,250,000 a year spent on fancy recreational facilities for military personnel at Hawaii under the guise that it was needed "military construction."

2. An airfield in North Africa that was built by the Air Force, admittedly "at the wrong place" at a tremendous cost to the United States taxpayer.

3—Hundreds of fancy housing quarters for personnel of the State Department and other government agencies at Bonn and Frankfort, Germany, which has led to the famous saying in Europe: "They never had it so good."

The comptroller general told committee members that even when general accounting office investigators point out to government officials that they have no authority for this spending, "In some cases the departments just won't move."

"Just recently," he said, "I was briefed on the Bonn report. Frankly, I was appalled at some of the things I was told, and at some of the illustrations that accompanied the report."

Warren said that the State Department particularly was "a very farflung empire" that had to be checked closely on its spending. He said that he did not know if the General Accounting Office could do it, because it was spread too thin.

There have been flagrant cases of direct violation on the will of Congress and other cases where the will of Congress was completely ignored by the executive branch, he told the lawmakers.

Asked what could be done about the situation, Warren replied that Congress was the legislative body and that it was up to Congress to remedy the situation.

However, he made this specific suggestion: "One thing is that Congress has to spell out things more, and then insist that your instructions are carried out," he told committee members.

Institution 65 Years Old

Marion Federal Savings, Loan Marks Anniversary

Sixty-five years of helping Marion grow is the record of one of the city's oldest businesses celebrating its 65th birthday Friday.

The Marion Federal Savings and Loan Association first started business on May 1, 1888 following nearly two months of planning by a group of 10 men who were the incorporators of the firm.

First called the Marion Building Savings and Loan Co. it operated under a state charter until 1935 when a federal charter was obtained and the name was changed.

Actually the first meeting to form the new company was held March 5, 1888. Object of that meeting was to procure the charter and set up the by-laws.

At that meeting J. J. Hane was appointed temporary chairman and M. B. Chase was named temporary secretary.

Other meetings followed and on May 1. the company opened its doors for business in a room in the old Masonic Building on E. Center St. above what is now Kerrey's Jewelry Store.

The first loan made by the firm was to a C. H. Wilson. At that time "money was sold" on a premium basis. This was a fee charged in addition to the interest. On this first "money sale" Wilson bid a premium of four cents a week on each $100 on a loan of $700. Actually the borrower in those days subscribed to a number of shares in the company and when the shares were paid for the loan was cancelled. All borrowers were required to be members of the company. It was a means of a group of persons pooling their savings in order to build homes.

Original Board

The original board of directors was composed of A. H. Kling, Thomas J. McMurray, J. L. Streltiz, J. J. Hane, J. F. McNeal, Edward Huber, and Thomas H. B. Beale. Kling was later elected president and Edward Durfee was placed in charge as the secretary manager. Durfee served in that capacity until 1928. His daughter, Florence, served as his assistant and was employed at the company 50 years until 1936. She now lives on S. Prospect St.

An indication of the growth of the company during the 65 years is seen by a comparison of the first semi-annual statement and the firm's present assets. In 1888 it had a total of $23,112.67 with total earnings for the half-year of $693.95 and a surplus or reserves of $31.96.

Today the total assets are listed of the firm were Edward Huber, J. J. Waddell, Frank Huber and W. L. Morral.

Other present officers are Pauline Ruhl, assistant secretary and treasurer, and James C. Sloan, assistant secretary.

Members of the board are Geer, E. G. Siefert, Vance, Homer R. Waddell, Frank M. Brabson, Henry A. Mickley, and Russell D. Luke.

Vance announced that during the month long anniversary celebration, each adult who calls at the company offices will be presented a gift combination letter opener, magnifier, and phone dialer.

Radio Spots Remote Celestial Systems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two scientists say celestial systems far beyond the range of existing telescopes can apparently be detected by radio which picks up noises created by heat and other radiation.

Dr. Martin Ryle of Cambridge, England, and Dr. Rudolph Minkowski of Mt. Wilson and Mt. Palomar Observatories in California described the evidence yesterday at meetings of the National Academy of Sciences and affiliated groups.

They mentioned no specific distances, but said some noises picked up by sensitive radio devices apparently stem from galaxies far beyond the vision range of the 200-inch Mt. Palomar telescope.

And that's a long way, for it has an estimated range of 5,900 billion miles.

TO PLEAD INSANITY

LONDON (AP)—Defense counsel today laid the groundwork for an insanity plea for John Christie, mild-mannered trucking clerk charged with the murder of four women in Notting Hill's "house of horror."

at more than $8-million and the reserves are some $800,000.

Another comparison is in the interest paid on money deposited with the firm then and now. In that first six-month period the interest rate paid depositors was seven and three-tenths per cent. Today the rate is a straight two and one-half per cent.

Location Moved

The company later moved from E. Center St. location to a room above what is now the Woolworth Co. store on W. Center St., and still later moved across the street to a ground floor room located just west of the National City Bank building. The company returned to E. Center St. in its present location Jan. 1, 1927.

Kelley R. Vance was appointed executive vice president and secretary in 1945 and the present president is F. R. Geer.

3 Ohioans on List Boarding Planes

63 More Americans Leave Tokyo for U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Another planeload of disabled Allied soldiers left Tokyo today at 5:41 a. m. EST for the United States on the last leg of a trip that began in North Korean prison camps.

The plane was one of two which will take 63 sick and wounded—mostly Americans—through Honolulu to Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco .

The second plane was due to leave about 11:30 a. m. today EST.

The planes will make a 17-hour flight to honolulu, stop there briefly to let the prisoners rest and then make a nine-hour flight to Travis.

These will be the second and third planeloads of repatriated prisoners to fly home. The first group of 35 prisoners arrived at Travis Wednesday.

A list of those going home follows, but the Army warned that some names might be changed before both planes left.

The list:

Bucyrus Women's Board To Revise Constitution

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Members of the Woman's Board of Bucyrus City Hospital voted Monday night for a revision of the organization's constitution.

The revision will be in charge of the group's membership committee, which is composed of Mrs. John Davis, chairman, Mrs. C. H. King, Mrs. Fred Elder, Mrs. Arno McGraw and Mrs. W. G. Carlisle.

Mrs. H. F. Wurtemberger, chairman of the purchasing committee, reported that a new dryer has been purchased for the hospital but it will not be available for three months.

Hospital Day, which originally was scheduled for May 3, has been postponed until a later date, board officers announced.

Social Affairs

A ONE O'CLOCK LUNCHEON Tuesday at Hotel Harding closed the 1952-53 season for the Three Arts Club. Joining the members for the meeting was Mrs. M. C. Richmond of Columbus, a former Marion resident and an associate member of the club. The U-shaped table was decorated with yellow tapers and fans to which were caught flower corsages. The center arrangement was a bouquet of yellow snapdragons, white asters, iris, narcissus and huckleberry foliage. Miss Mabel Wheatley was in charge of decorations. The invocation was by Mrs. Carl Setterfield.

Mrs. Fred W. Issler, president, presided for a business session during which Mrs. Ronald Selanders gave a report of the Federation board meeting. "Pig" banks, distributed to clubwomen earlier in the season and turned in by the members Tuesday, and money taken from the club's birthday fund, made up a gift of $100 to the Federation to be applied on proposed improvements to the Women's Club Home.

For the program Mrs. Setterfield presented Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Grace Ulsh, who took the members on a travel tour of the Caribbean Islands.

Mrs. Issler, Mrs. Paul Knauss and Miss Wheatley will attend the annual state convention of women's clubs to be held in Cleveland May 5, 6 and 7, and the club's annual pilgrimage will be made this year to the art museum on the Ohio State University campus on May 12. Club meetings will be resumed with a luncheon Oct. 13 at the Club Home.

—:—

Mrs. Rozelle Cudd was hostess for a meeting of the Fun 'Til One Club Wednesday evening, April 22, at her home on Sharpless Ct. High honors in cards went to Mrs. Harold Williams and Mrs. George McGuire, and Mrs. Roy Miller was consoled. At the next meeting, husbands of the members will be guests for a potluck supper at the home of Mrs. Herman Rinehart on Davids St.

—:—

Kathleen Powelson was honored on her eighth birthday anniversary Saturday, April 25, when her mother, Mrs. Clyde Powelson, entertained with a party in the afternoon at their home west of Marion. Guests were members of the Brownie Troop of the Green Camp School.

Games and contests provided entertainment and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robrt Lowry of Green Camp. The celebrant received a number of gifts.

Members of the Brownie Troop present were Susan O'Hara, Carol Robinson, Patsy Pyles, Elizabeth Ann Rothfuss, Joyce Kline, Suzanne McElroy, Sharon Christian and Janet Rodgers. Other guests were Billy Lowry and Terry Powelson.

A potluck supper preceded the meeting when the Junior Child Culture League met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Jack Colgrove, 934 Henry St. The Mother's Creed by the group opened the meeting and reports were given of the spring conference held Thursday, April 23, at Upper Sandusky. Names for secret sisters for next year were selected. For the program, Mrs. Robert McCrery led a discussion on the subject "The House As Johnny Sees It."

—:—

Mrs. and Mrs. J. B. Walter of the Delaware Pk. were hosts for a meeting of the Turf and Tanbark Saddle Club Saturday night. An oyster and chili supper was served.

Orla Barks, president, presided for the business session. Mrs. Vernon Pinkerton, who is in charge of pony publicity for the Ohio Breeders Association, asked the members for news for her department. Plans were made for a trail and hayride Sunday, May 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barks. On the committee to arrange for the dinner will be Mrs. Stanley Hoopman, Mrs. William Guy and William K. Davis. Mr. Barks was named to represent the club on the Ohio Western Horse Association. Plans were discussed for summer activities.

Carol Sue Keck of 838 Merkel Ave. was hostess for a meeting of Phi Mu Chapter, National Sorority of Pi Mu recently at her home. Mrs. Harry T. Williams, instructor, met with the group. A study of the life of the composer, Mendelssohn was presented by Marilyn Kunert and solos were by Susan Kinsler and Jane Haley. Roger Jamison, Howard Klehm, Susan Kinsler and Marilyn Kunert played the numbers they were to present in the junior music club contest.

—:—

Mrs. Rose Young was guest speaker when the Altrurian Club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Alma Miller, 234 Clover Ave. Her subject was "The Story of the 23rd Psalm." Mrs. E. H. Cooper conducted devotions, and members responded to roll call by naming their favorite spring flower. An announcement was made of the antique show and sale to be held May 15-17 at the Coliseum. The next meeting, May 11, will be a May breakfast at Ringer's Inn.

—:—

"The Humility of Christ" was the devotional topic given by Mrs. E. W. Koeppen who served as hostess for the Monday afternoon meeting of the Ben Hur Club at the Federation Home. Roll call was answered by naming a modern invention. Plans were made for the final meeting of the season, on May 11 at the Federation Home. A covered dish luncheon with the patronesses as guests will be featured. Mrs. Charles Melvin read a paper on the revised standard version and the history of the Bible.

Mrs. Omer Williams of Congress St. entertained members of the Mothers Study Club of Edison Junior High School Monday evening. A potluck supper marked the last club meeting of the season.

For entertainment, the group enjoyed several games with prizes going to Mrs. Charles Haughn, Mrs. Basil Pickens, Mrs. Chester Carnes, Mrs. Orville Hazen, Mrs. Alfred Whittington, Mrs. Herbert Clapsaddle, Mrs. Edwin Price and Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Howard Ziegler was a guest.

Mrs. Joe E. Davis and Mrs. Robert Wise served as hostesses for a sandwich party. Yearly reports were given. For the program, an article on "Ohio Firsts" was given by Mrs. Bernard Brooks, and a film was shown by the Rev. Evan R. Owens of Prospect Street Methodist Church. The social committee was composed of Mrs. M. A. Hendel, Mrs. Frank Brabson, and Mrs. Russell Wilhelm. Mrs. Herman Heisler will head the club as president for the next club year, beginning in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ulsh of east of Marion have returned from a month's trip through the southwest. Ice Show Coming to Coliseum

The sister show of the Ice Capades, "Ice Cycles of 1953" will come to Marion Memorial Coliseum on Wednesday, May 20, for five days only through May 24. Evening shows start at 8:30 p.m. and the Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m.

Walt Disney's "Cinderella" is one of nine production numbers in this all new ice show, playing Marion for the first time.

Pretty Margaret Field and her husband Jimmy Lawrence portray Cinderella and Prince Charming in the ice-version of the famous fairy story which lasts more than a half-hour. Based on Walt Disney's film and using its musical score and characters such as Jaq and Gus-Gus the mice and Lucifer the cat, the ice Cinderella is billed as a masterpiece of pantomime, costuming, lighting and blade choreography. Of course, no Cinderella would be complete without the coach and four white horses, which change into a pumpkin drawn by mice, at the stroke of midnight, and ice cycles offers an ingenious mechanical prop that actually moves and you see the transformation right before your eyes.

The ice extravaganza has a wealth of teen-age talent and "Juke Box Jamboree" presents a youthful performer from Lakewood, O., red-headed Bill Brown who brings jumping jive to the ice with real showmanship. New French skating star, Raymonde duBief is featured in "Gypsy Gold" opulent opening number. Others featured are the modern ice team of Shirley Winter and William Knapp and forty lovely Ice Cyclettes. The new Canadian champion, Jane Kirby and her pair partner Marchall Garrett are co-starred in the "Birds of a Feather" sequence, which is the most lavish number in the Ice Cycles. The colorful finale is "Minstrel Daze."

Tickets go on sale Friday by mail at the Marion Memorial Coliseum, Box 502 or in downtown Marion at Gallaher Drug Store and the National City Bank.

The show is designed for family entertainment and there are many laugh-packed treats for the kiddies such as the "Teddy Bears' Picnic" and the "Jingle Belles' production complete with a diminutive Santa Claus and skating Christmas trees.

"The Bi-Focal Age" Described In Talk to Altrusa

Life as viewed through Miss Frances Eward's bi-focals was shared by members of the Marion Altrusa Club and their guests Tuesday night at the club's monthly dinner meeting at Hotel Harding.

Miss Eward lives in Richmond, Ind. where she is director of the Earlham College News Bureau and broadcasts weekly programs over the Richmond radio station. In her spare time she is a freelance lecturer and writer, does outside work in the fields of publicity, advertising and public relations, is vice president of the Richmond Altrusa Club, and is active in community affairs, serving on the boards of the Wayne County Cancer Society, Salvation Army and the public information committee of the Red Cross. She is a member of the Indiana Women's Press Club and last year the Indiana University made her an associate member of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary for women in Journalism. Her subject was "The Bi-Focal Age."

Guests included officers and members of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

"We get a two-dimensional view of life in the bi-focal age, we look up and down, near and far," Miss Eward told her audience. She convinced her listeners that there is much to be gained in reaching the bi-focal age if one looks at life not from a chronological viewpoint but from spirit, and asked them to recall their youth when they longed to grow up and "no one can tell you what to do." We are grown up and everybody tells us what to do, she added.

pared with a bulging ego. She reminded her audience that there are "people who drag their cross and people who carry their cross."

Accompany Miss Eward here was Miss Birdice Norris of Richmond, Fifth District governor of Altrusa. In a brief talk she brought greetings from the district and Richmond Clubs and extended her personal invitation as well as that of her Club to attend the annual May breakfast of the Richmond Club Sunday. A number of members are planning to attend.

Daisies and white sweet peas in an old-fashioned blue and white tureen, made up the bouquet centering the speaker's table and on the other tables were bouquets of narcissus. Garlands of ivy and lighted white tapers completed the decorations. Dessert included cake with a tiny lighted candle in celebration of the 36th anniversary of Altrusa International.

The invocation was by Miss Margaret Huffman and a welcome was by Miss Marie Wolf, president of Altrusa. The speaker was presented by Miss Ruth Kramer, immediate past president of Altrusa International.

Guests aside from the Business and Professional Women's Club members included Mrs. Isabelle Moyer, Mrs. William Stedman, Miss Thelma Miller and Mrs. Norma Mitchell of Bellevue, Mrs. Harrison Ellis, Mrs. Nadine Gilmore, Miss Marie Ruehrmund, Mrs. C. H. Conley, Mrs. Elmer Smith, Mrs Francis Voll, Mrs. R. D. Luke, Mrs. George E. Turner, Miss Isabelle Stump, Miss Becky Coup, Mrs. George Pfleiderer and Miss Virginia McClure, and the junior club members, Isleabeth Endicott, St. Mary's High School and Carol Sparks, Harding High.

The talk was interspersed with humor to illustrate her philosophy of life. There is a happy side looking through the top of the bi-focals but it takes courage to see ourselves through the lower part, she believes. Courage is needed to laugh at ourselves and when it comes to worrying, it is her belief that instead of worrying about a mature figure we should worry about a mature mind and that a bulging waistline is not to be com-

Conditions At State Hospital Investigated

Testimony Differs In Rival Probes At Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, O. (AP)—Two rival investigations of conditions at Cambridge State Hospital were carried out Wednesday and the next step in the political hot potato apparently depends on the senators who headed the first quiz.

State Sens. Ralph Humphrey (R-Ashtabula) and John Corrigan D(-Cuyahoga) listened to testimony first. When they refused to allow Welfare Director John Lamneck to cross-examine the witnesses, Lamneck ordered his own hearing in the afternoon.

The senators were investigating charges of poor food, brutality and narcotic addiction by hospital staff members. One of Lamneck's witnesses, O. J. Sharp of Byesville, said tne Senate invesitgation was a political smear at the administration of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche .

Two hospital employes, Mrs. Elsie Garen and Paul Davis, testified at both hearings.

Mrs. Garen told Lamneck hospital patients got good and adequate food. She told the senators the food at the hospital was poor and inadequate until the Senate began its probe of conditions at the institution.

Mrs. Garen said she once saw an attendant slap the bare leg of a patient and others grab patients by the wrist to dicipline or subdue them. She said this was done in self-defense.

Mrs. Garen said sanitation at Cambridge had improved. But ward Attendant Davis said toilet facilities for violent patients were frequently out of order and he occasionally had to spend five to 15 minutes a day cleaning them up. Davis said the patients' behavior was responsible for the condition.

Another ward attendent, Dallas Fisher, told Lamneck the food at the hospital was "too much and too good."

Hospital Director Arthur Hopwood said patients ate meat seven to eight times a week. He said Cambridge compared favorably with many other hospitals he had inspected.

Dr. Hopwood said the press had "great injustice" in carry-

Kitchen Hints Will Be Given At Gasco Show

Step-saving ideas and efficiency in the kitchen will be deomonstrated at the May 5 and 6 sessions of the Gasco Food Institute here.

Homemakers who attend will see how the model kitchen featured in the institute is designed for streamlined efficiency. Betty Newton, home service adviser of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., reports that there is more to kitchen convenience than the cabinet-range-refrigerator arrangement.

The company adviser suggests that some pots and pans be kept near the range and others near the sink, for extra convenience, instead of storing them all in one place. Storing utensils near the point where they are to be first used is the rule in efficiency arranging.

Many other homemaking hints will be featured in the two-day institute sponsored by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in cooperation with local merchants.

STAGE SETTING for the Gasco Food Institute which opens here Tuesday is a model kitchen. One of the kitchen's modern features is the revolving unit in a corner base cabinet which is demonstrated by the institute lecturer, Betty Newton.

Lack of Fences Here Amazes Swiss Couple at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION—The absence of fences and gates around American homes is one thing that has impressed Albert Aegerter and his wife, Ida.

The couple arrived in Galion last week from Switzerland to live with Mrs. Aegerter's brother, Joe Urban of east of Galion. Mrs. Aegerter will operate her brother's Swiss Village Motel while he concentrates on his business, that of making aluminum awnings for housetrailers.

In Switzerland and most of Europe, the finer homes and estates all have fences, and usually iron gates, as a protection. The Swiss couple are much impressed with the different types of homes in the United States, and especially that the larger homes and estates are open and without protection, which is felt so necessary in most of Europe.

They are also impressed with the vastness and large scale of everything they have seen thus far in this country. In New York City, the skyscrapers, bridges and tunnels were fascinating, and the trip over the Pennsylvania turnpike was unlike any road in Europe that they had even seen. Automobiles, the number of them, and the spaces in which to drive them, are also fascinating the visitors.

Mrs. Aegerter understands English, and speaks it quite well. Right now she is interpreter for her husband, as well as Mr. Urban. One time before, in 1931, Mrs. Aegerter spent a year in Chicago when Mr. Urban and their aunt were living there. Mr. Urban has been in this country since 1926.

Mr. Aegerter is a dental technician by profession, but he is undecided what he will choose to do here. His wife operated a beauty shop in Switzerland for some time, and later was a tourist guide. The Aegerters have a permanent visa.

Mrs. Aegerter and her brother have always been interested in the hotel business. Their father was a manager of some of the finer hotels in such countries as Italy, Portugal, Egypt, Switzerland, Germany, France and England.

Destitute Mother Steals Baby Shoes, Finds Sympathy

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—Last Sunday a worried mother stole a pair of baby shoes for one of her three small children.

She did it, she told police because for lack of shoes the tot was unable to play outdoors.

Today the world is looking brighter for Mrs. Patricia Morrison, 27.

She has a $100 check from actress Merle Oberon, and Miss Oberon's attorney is to represent her when she appears for sentencing May 20. Mrs. Morrison pleaded guilty to petty theft charges Monday.

She also has received lesser sums of money from other well wishers, two pairs of shoes from a lady in Beverly Hills, and the offer of a rent-free home.

Harold Keller, 32, an unemployed welder, surrendered himself to police after Mrs. Morrison's arrest and said he was responsible for her trouble. He brought her here in 1948 after deserting his wife and three children in West New York, N.J., he said.

Police are holding him on charges of passing worthless checks.

'Senators Ball' to Honor Model Legislators

A "Senators Ball" honoring the Marion students who took part last week end in the annual YMCA Youth and Government program in Columbus, will be held in the Club Co.-Ed rooms at the "Y" here Friday night. The dance will be held from 9 p.m. until 12 and the musicians will be the Billie Johnston Combo group from Green Camp.

Those honored will be Robert Knachel, who was Senate recording clerk, John White, senator from the 31st and 13th Districts, Carol Sparks, Marion county representative, and Gilbert Herr, alternate representative. The event will be held under direction of the Club Co-Ed Council headed by Bonnie Kern. Memberships are 35 cents and 50 cents, it was announced.

Republic Steel Ingot Output Sets Record

CLEVELAND (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. made more steel ingots in the first three months of this year than in any quarter of its history and its sales and operating revenue of $292,918,852 also was a record high, the firm reported today.

Net earnings of $13,779,049, or $2.26 a share, compared with $11,759,513, or $1.92 a share, in the first quarter of 1952 when sales and operating revenue totalled $261,599,663.

First quarter federal taxes more than doubled the net income, Republic said, adding up to $28,350,000.

Republic's steel production for January, February and March was 2,607,075 tons.

For each sales dollar, profit was 4.7 cents in the past quarter, compared with 4.5 cents a year ago.

The company also announced the appointment of Ernest R. Johnson as assistant vice president in charge of operations. He has been manager of Republic's alloy district, with plants in Canton and Massillon. Oscar A. Bamberger, assistant district manager, will succeed him.

Rule Film Censorship Constitutional

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The state Supreme Court held 5-2 Wednesday that Ohio's film censorship law is constitutional.

Superior Films, Inc., of Hollywood, producers of the film "M," asked the court to overrule the state film censorship division's rejection of the movie. It was banned on grounds it sympathetically portrayed the actions and emotions of a child - killing pervert.

The court did order the censorship board to take another film "Native Son" and pass on it. The board threw out the film three times on grounds its portrayal of racial frictions might contribute to misunderstandings.

1,700 Attend Final Home Show Session

The most successful Home and Better Living Show, sponsored by the Marion Exchange Club, closed at the Coliseum Wednesday night with a crowd estimated at over 1,700 attending the three-hour session.

It brought the total attendance to the fourth annual show which opened Sunday afternoon to approximately 8,600. Last year's attendance mark of approximately 6,100 was shattered Tuesday night when some 2,100 persons visited the Coliseum.

The show, the biggest ever and of which John Salisbury was chairman, included all types of products for home, sporting goods and many other items on display. There were many actual demonstrations of the products.

A total of 36 merchants contracted for space in the show and there were 82 booths.

Some 3,100 persons attended the afternoon and evening sessions at the show's opening Sunday and some 1,700 more persons visited the Coliseum Monday night. Harold Gram, chairman of the show, said the crowds ran about 30 per cent higher at each session over last year.

Rules Bones Found In Bog 2,000 Years Old

Dr. E. H. Morgan, Marion County coroner, today filed his official report on the ancient human bones found last month on the Sautter farm in eastern Marion County.

Dr. Morgan reported the bones had been buried between 2,000 and 2,500 years.

The bones were found buried when a drainage ditch was being dug to a bog in the field. Dr. Morgan's report said pathologists at Ohio State University had studied the bones and given the estimated time of burial.

TWO DRIVERS ARRESTED

Two traffic arrests were reported today by Marion police. Edward F. Miller, 37, of 503 Tyler St. was charged with reckless driving on Bellefontaine Ave. at 1:08 p.m. Wednesday. Sam Patrick Jr., 33, of 358 S. Main St. was charged with failure to register a motor vehicle. He was arrested at his residence at 2:19 p.m. Wednesday.

Actor's Wife Files Complaint

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Claiming actor John Wayne has struck her his investigation showed one of the men named was never an addict and two others were making "an honest attempt at rehabilitation."

Mrs. Garen had testified she once saw a nurse, who has since left the hospital, take narcotics.

Two ministers who served as chaplains at the hospital, Rev. David Hively of Cumberland and Rev. Ben Moore of Cambridge, testified they found the hospital in satisfactory condition and the staff most cooperative in their visits.

tractors have also been made.

A representative from the Center is available to organizations to explain and show the rendition ofthe proposed pool which has been drawn up, Browne announced. Jack Cress, president of the Ohio Sprinkler Co. and chairman of the adult group backing the project, can be contacted for further information.

Volunteers from the community who wish to join the pool drive can sign a pledge sheet at the Moose Lodge Hall and leave a minimum pledge contribution of $1, he said. Various committees are expected to be chosen from the pledge list at a meeting next week. Election of trustees will also be held at that time.

The Community Recreation Center meetings are to be held each Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Moose Lodge Hall for any adult interested in working for the pool project.

tained.

James Jenkins, candidate for reelction to Council, told the audience that it had been rumored that he was agaisnt the grade crossing elimination, and he wanted them to know that that was not true.

Views on Sewers

The subject of an adequate sewer system for Marion was mentioned by several of the candidates in their talks and brought up for broader coverage in the discussion period.

A man in the audience asked the candidates about the Jefferson Street sewer for which money had been provided by the 1945 sewer bond issue approved by the voters.

Richard E. Lister, candidate for election to Council, agreed that "nobody should have to live in unsanitary conditions," and C. R. Thomas Jr., candidate for election to Council, and Herman L. Rinehart, candidate for re-election to Council, answered that the Jefferson Street sewer project was being delayed while the city was waiting for plans to be submitted by the Marion Engineer Depot.

More active participation by Marion residents in city government was avocated by Lister. Raymond Donaugh, candidate for election to Council, and Harold Fralich, candidate for re-election to Council.

Fralich said the small turn-out for the candidates' meeting was illustrative of the "general apathy of Marion residents with city government." The city officials need and welcome the public's ideas on city matters, he said.

The fact that Marion is confronted with problems such as the ones discussed by them at the meeting was indicative of Marion's progress, most of the candidates believed, and therefore long-range planning was to be desired. Among those expressing this viewpoint were Warren Diehl, candidate for election to Council; Don Quaintance, candidate for re-election to Council; and Frank Shoemaker, candidate for election to Council.

Advocate Curfew

In regard to problems of Marion youth, Clair Dye and George Moore, candidates for election as mayor, both expressed the belief that renewing the curfew would be a step in the right direction.

Holding the opposite belief, that a curfew was no answer to the problem, was John Williams, who felt that planned recreation was a better solution.

During the discussion period, a teen-ager asked the candidates' opinion of the swimming pool project undertaken by the Marion youth. Haldeman said he was "glad to see the young people take this by the horn" and that basically he was in agreement with them on the necessity of the pool, but that he wanted more information on how the pool would be operated.

A woman in the audience, questioning the candidates about their views on the necessity of the Marion airport and therefore Marion was merely complying with the voters' wishes by operating the airport. Fralich and Lister reported that several Marion industries had private airplanes which made regular use of the airport, and that Marion had and was attracting new industries because of the airport.

Adequate police protection was questioned by a woman in the audience who asked the candidates what measures they could take to provide police patrols at dangerous intersections near schools.

Lister said he thought the Marion Police Department was doing the best job it could under present conditions in view of the fact that the department was under-staffed by 14 policemen by national standards.

City Manager Gov't

Referring to a question from a man in the audience about the city manager form of government, Fralich said he was in favor of it if the city "were willing to pay the adequate salary which the head of a two and one-half million dollar corporation, the city of Marion, could command." The adequate salary, Fralich said, would insure the manager being "above politics" and free him from the influence of "pressure groups" on his decisions.

A woman who asked why Council didn't do anything to improve the condition of Marion's sidewalks was told by Harold Smith that maintenance of sidewalks was the responsibility of the property owners.

Smith's answer brought this question from a man in the audience: "Did you ever try to put in a sidewalk?" Discusison on this subject brought out the "red tape" involved in getting a permit to improve a sidewalk. This was contrasted by the man in the audience with the comparative ease in building a house in Marion because of the lack of a building code.

Other candidates appearing on the program were Herman Miller, candidate for election as president of Council; Harry D. Cahill, candidate for re-election as city treasurer; and George Steinman, Walter Wililams, and Bertha M. Stewart, candidates for election to Council.

The welcome was extended by Mrs. Robert Axe, president of the League, while the keynote for the meeting was expressed by Mrs. Robert W. Fay, and candidates were introduced by Mrs. Norman Winslow.

TOP HEIFER SOLD

Burrwood Farm of north of Marion owned by Don Duprey and P. D. Lockwood of Marion sold one of the top Angus heifers at the Ohio Aberdeen Angus State Show and Sale in Columbus Tuesday. The heifer, Blackcap Empress the 5th, was first in her class in the show and sold for $750.

Scouts who achieved the rank of Eagle Scout during the past year were special guests at the banquet and signed their names in the Golden Book during a ceremony. The Eagle Scouts were Fred Kull of Troop 15, Marion; Nelford Kimerline of Troop 60, Bucyrus; Darrell Bobler of Troop 60, Bucyrus; Ted Pollock of Post 2, Marion; Phillip Skapura of Post 27, Mt. Gilead; Tommy Koehler of Troop 43, Upper Sandusky. Another Scout who attained the rank of Eagle Scout during the past year, Reuben Messenger of Troop 36, LaRue, is in the service and was unable to attend.

Training awards to leaders who completed three-year training periods in Scout leadership were presented by Milo Richey, chairman of the council training committee. Receiving the awards were Ernest Hoar, Scoutmaster of Troop 20, Johnsville; Robert Gerhardt, Cubmaster of Pack 27, Mt. Gilead; Eugene S. White, Scoutmaster of Troop 5, Marion; Wayne Snyder, troop committee chairman of Troop 30, Cardington; Carl Fogle, advisor of Post 2, Marion; Mrs. Ross Brinkman, Den Mother of Pack 119, Bucyrus; Mrs. Harold McClintock, Den Mother of Pack 119, Bucyrus; and Dale Mosher, advisor of Post 27, Mt. Gilead.

Membership Awards

Membership awards were presented to 32 units which achieved outstanding membership gains during the past year by Max Smith, chairman of the council organization and extension committee.

Eagle Scouts Ted Pollock, Darrell Bibler and Phil Skapura saluted Cub, Scout and Explorer leaders and assistant leaders in a ceremony before the presentation of the awards.

Main speaker of the evening was Johnny Jones, Columbus columnist, who gave a humorous talk and told of the around-the-world trip he made with a group of newspaperboys.

Dr. Robert T. Gray of Prospect, council president, also talked to the group on the past and future work of the Harding Area Council. The program closed with Eagle Scouts gathering around a campfire and slides on the coming Scout Jamobree shown by Dean Johnson, district Scout executive.

The Rev. Dennis Herbst, pastor of Our Lady of Consolation Church of Carey, gave the invocation and the opening ceremony was conducted by Scouts Fred Kull and Nelford Kimerline.

Toastmaster was the Rev. David W. Skeen, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church of Mt. Gilead. He introduced the various Scout officials and gave them recognition.

Guy Moore played on the organ throughout the dinner.

There are about 70 wild relatives of cultivated tobacco.

City Bank, that held a mortgage, The Associated Press reported today.

The state, federal government and bank all have claims on the assets of the firm, which was placed into receivership by Marion County Common Pleas Court.

In another case the court upheld the state board of tax appeals in exempting Rawls, Inc., of Lima from the use taxes on tire retreating materials purchased outside Ohio.

Youth Arrested On Hit-Skip Charge

A 17-year-old Maumee boy was returned to Marion Wednesday afternoon on a hit-skip driving charge as a result of an accident Tuesday on N. Main St.

Under questioning by Marion police, the youth admited he was the driver of the car which struck a Safety Cab Co. taxi which was double parked in front of the D and D Lunch restaurant on N. Main St. at 8:33 p.m. Tuesday, police said. Taxi driver James J. Simpkins said the other car struck his taxi from the rear and went on without stopping. He got the license number of the car and it later was stopped in Perrysburg by the State Highway Patrol.

The car is owned by Lafe Wheeler of Maumee. The youth will be charged with leaving the scene of an accident in Marion County Juvenile Court, Police Chief Tom Coon said today.

Check

erates in much the same manner as that used in chain letters. When police receive a report of a bad check, the Chamber is notified immediately. A member of the C of C staff then calls three division leaders in the plan. Each division leader makes two calls to fellow merchants and they in turn call two others. This procedure continues until every store taking part in the program has been warned.

The Chamber spokesman urged all business men in Marion to take part in the program. He said membership in the Chamber of Commerce was not required.

He pointed out the warning system had not been set up only for bad check artists. It can also be used in warnings of shoplifters, fraudulent advertising and other schemes used to defraud local business.

Last night's meeting culminated several weeks' planning by members of the Retail Merchants Division. After working out details of the plan with the sheriff's office and the police department the Chamber decided to put the plan into operation and the approval of Chief Coon signaled the go ahead, the Chamber spokesman said.

Doctors for tomorrow's clinics which begin at 9 a.m. will be E. L. Brady, F. T. Merchant and H. R. Finney at George Washington School, and F. W. Rea, Hugh Cregg, M. R. Swisher and Ralph Burton at Glenwood School.

Edison Man's Auto Demolished in Crash

A car driven by Hollie E. Hardman Jr., 21, of near Edison was demolished this morning at 5:30 when it left the highway while traveling east on County Road 169 east of the Richland Pike.

Sheriff Glenn Obenour said the driver apparently lost control of the car while rounding a curve. The auto left the highway and went into a ditch. It struck and tore down a mailbox at the home of D. T. Mills, county school superintendent, and also tore down a utility pole.

Hardman was not injured, the sheriff said.

and threatened her,

asked a court for an order prohibiting him from annoying her in any way.

In court yesterday, the former Esperanza Bauer, 30, also demanded reasonable alimony pending trial of her separate maintenance suit. She said she and Wayne had ben accustomed to spending $13,091.12 monthly.

A hearing was set for May 15.

In another action, the 44-year-old actor seeks a divorce. The couple married in 1946 and separated last May 7.

Mrs. Wayne said her husband earns $45,000 in salary monthly and in addition gets income from oil and other investments.

Fined $100 After Pleading Guilty

A Marion man was fined $100 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

Harry L. Jolliff, 36, of 669 W. Center St. was arrested at the police station at 9 a.m. today on a warrant signed by Lowell Finch of 675 W. Center St.

Police were called to Finch's residence at 6:22 a.m. Tuesday and Finch told them that Jolliff had entered his residence a few minutes before, tossed his radio on the floor and smashed it.

Jolliff pleaded guilty to the charge in Municipal Court today. He gave no reason for his action.

Galion High Band In Friday Program

Special to The Star

GALION—Several feature numbers are being offered in the concert, this Friday night, by the Galion High school Band. The band is directed by Marvin Fogt. The program begins at 8:15 p.m., in the senior high school auditorium.

One of the numbers will be "Waggery for Woodwinds," with solo arrangements for flute, oboe, clarinet, alto saxophone and tenor saxophone, played by Phyllis Kruger, Mary Jane West, Dorothy Berting, Carolyn Cox and Carol Sloan, respectively.

The comedy number "Peck Horn's Revenge," will be the interpretation of French horn players, Pat Auer, Pat Scott, Dale Knowlton, Marge Mulberg and Ed Switzer, as to how they got in the high school band.

"My Cris" Has Setting Here

Novel Written by Marion Man Goes on Sale Today

JAMES G. CRAVEN

A Marion resident, James G. Craven, is the author of a novel which goes on sale in Marion and in bookstores throughout the country today. The 164-page book is titled "My Cris."

The first novel to be published by the author has Marion as the setting of the story and the romance of Ruby Crispin, "Cris," and Ronald Wilsson begins in their high school years at Harding High.

While the story centers around the two young people, Ron's mother is a dominating figure who attempts to live her son's life for him and creates havoc with her pernicious meddling. Mrs. Johannesson, a wealthy elderly woman whom Cris nurses back to health, takes a hand in the romance on the side of the two young people and at the same time forgets her own selfishness and arrogance. Cris's parents are the average American family whose keen insight and trust in their daughter help her over troublesome hurdles.

Ron and Cris have their lives disrupted by World War II and both make sacrifices for their country, he by enlisting in the Armed Forces and she as a nurse on the home front.

The author is a native of Marion and received his education in the local schools. The story was written 11 years ago while he was employed on The Marion Star. The story is the fourth to be written by him and the first to be published. He is now working on a fifth which has a newspaper as a background.

The novel has been selected by the publishers, Exposition Press, Inc., as one of a group to be displayed at the American Librarians Association meeting in Los Angeles in June.

Craven, whose home is at 1039 Cheney Ave., is active in the First EUB Church where he has served as president of the Victory Class, president of the choir and taken part in the young people's work locally and in the district. He was employed on The Marion Star and at the Marion Power Shovel Co. and is now supervisor of the Incoming Property Branch of the Marion Engineer Depot.

Marion Area Students Enrolled at Ohio State

Marion and area students are among those newly enrolled at Ohio State University for the spring quarter, the university reported today.

Students from Marion are Mary A. Gorton, Richard E. Graham, James R. Hill and Ruth M. Millisor.

Area students include Julia J. Detwiler of Kenton, Virginia E. Bowers Kerr of Bucyrus, Dorothy J. Osborn of Mt. Gilead, Robert D. Balliett, Ralph L. Hoffhines, Emily B. Smith, Frank E. Thompson and Leonard A. Visci, all of Delaware, William A. Hughes, Robert C. Hunt and Helen M. Thurston, all of Powell, Willard W. Borror of Sunbury, John W. Keirns of Marysville, and Richard C. Beidler of Upper Sandusky.

Crestline To Sponsor Pre-School Program

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE — Pre-school health clinic for Crestline's two public schools and one parochial school will get under way here June 2 for the public school students and on June 5 for the St. Joseph's school. The hours are 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Crawford County Health Commissioner Dr. T. R. Laughbaum assisted by county and local nurses will be in charge.

The clinic is for all children who will enter school this fall. A physical check-up will be given, which will include an examination of teeth, tonsils, skin, heart and lungs and an immunization for diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus and vaccination for smallpox if desired by the parents.

Upper Students Await Academy Appointments

UPPER SANDUSKY—Donald R. Markey, son of Mrs. Marjorie Markey, of Upper Sandusky and Thomas T. Matteson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto M. Matteson, of Upper Sandusky, have received notification that they are among the top 200 in the United States for appointment to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. They are now awaiting official notice from the commandant of the Academy.

The appointment will include a four-year course, from which the young men will graduate with a bachelor degree in engineering and will be commissioned ensigns in the U. S. Coast Guard.

Markey ad Matteson passed their mental examinations Feb. 28, and took their physical examinations Monday of this week.

Four Enlist In Army, Air Force

Four Marion area men enlisted in the Air Force and Army recently at the local recruiting station, Staff Sergeant James LeRow announced today.

Lewis Junior Springer of near LaRue enlisted in the Army and was sent to Ft. Meade, Md.

Three Galion men, George O. Bird, Thomas R. Grutsch and Louis W. Hackworth, enlisted in the Air Force. They were sent to Sampson Air Force Base, New York.

Korea Casualties Hit 134,410

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced late yesterday a wekly increase of 623 in Korean casualties, bringing the total to 134,410 through last Friday.

Total deaths increased by 105 to 21,369.

The report was the first of the department's weekly summaries to reflect the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners. The summary showed a drop of 30 in the number of known captured and an increase of 82 in the number returned to U. S. control.

Former Marion Man To Retire From Erie

Harry E. Tice, former Marion man, will retire as division storekeeper for the Erie Railroad in Susquehanna, Pa., at the end of the month. His action is in accordance with the Erie's "retirement at 65" policy. Tice was 65 today.

A native of Hornell, N.Y., he joined the Erie Railroad as assistant storekeeper at Bradford, Pa., in 1906 and he has a continuous service record of 47 years. In 1914 he became chief clerk to the storekeeper in Cleveland.

Tice became a division storekeeper in 1916 when he was assigned to Marion facilities. He went to Susquehanna in that capacity in 1919 and returned to Marion in 1930. He has been division storekeeper in Susquehanna for the second time since 1932.

HOW TAFT, BRICKER VOTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker, Ohio Republicans, voted with the majority Tuesday as the Senate defeated, 58-26, an amendment to the submerged coastal lands bill which would provide for federal ownership of land beyond the three-mile limit.

Inside Labor

Strange Bedfellows

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

A few days ago the news sifted through that one of Walter Reuther's Auto Union locals had invested $10,000 in a Continental Motors jet engine unit to help keep jobs in Muskegon, Michigan — so we began looking around for more of this friendly collaboration, and what do we find?

Unions all over the lot have heavy Wall Street investments — including my old feuding partners over at the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers Union which shows up with $11,000,000 in the smartest Wall Street portfolio I've yet seen.

Furthermore, these old left-wingers tell me they will make over $750,000 in profits and dividends this year.

SO HEAVY is their buying and selling, they have seriously considered purchasing a seat on the Stock Exchange for $40,000. This would save them considerable money in brokerage commissions.

But the boys who in the old days never let a week go by without some denunciation of this stodgy capitalism of ours, figured that a seat on the Stock Exchange was not the fashionable thing to have in their circles.

However, now that they're about to merge their purged union officially with CIO, styles may change. The Exchange may yet have its first union official sitting around on the board of governors telling the lads from the Union League Club just what the latest blasts from abroad really mean.

When I heard from the union chief that they were going to roll up three quarters of a million dollars this fiscal year, I asked for and got a look at the portfolio—and decided then and there that no matter how Wall Street is hissed in the future, the class struggle has no chance in these United States.

UNION PRESIDENT Arthur Osman said his militant outfit had holdings in over 100 companies—with the biggest blocs of securities in American Telephone and Telegraph, General Motors, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, American Airlines, A. C. Bohack, Eastern Airlines, Kelsey Hayes Wheel, Ohio Edison, Detroit Edison, Socony Oil, several railroads, radio companies, tobacco firms and bonds in Sinclair Oil.

The union president just wasn't taking any kidding on this Wall Street "collaboration." And what he said made sense.

"Our concept of investment for the Security Plan and Pension Fund is to use the reserves in such manner as to get the greatest possible yield, as a result of which all improvements and higher payments to our people come from this increased income out of the stock market rather than asking for greater contributions from the employers.

"We're trying to avoid imposing on industry any burdens which can be avoided. We have close to $11,-$9,000,000 worth of stocks and bonds selves by the laws controlling trust funds. By careful investments and resale of issues our union now gets a yield averaging six per cent."

IF ALL you capitalists will now line up on the right we'll find out how the left does it. Six per cent is not bad. And it now appears that other unions have been "collaborating" too.

The AFL Electrical Workers Brotherhood has picked up some $9,000,000 worth of stocks and bonds —which nets it a profit of almost $200,000 a year. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has much of its $53,000,000 in railroad and utility stocks. The rest is in government bonds.

Of course, there are scores of unions with big real estate holdings, banks and even a coal mine (John Lewis' union owns one).

Through these banks, the unions frequently lend money to employers in trouble. Especially now, with defense cutbacks threatening to shake some firms, we find closer cooperation between labor and management.

SINCE WE'LL soon enough hear some bitter name calling as the steel, coal and auto contract negotiations hit the news, let it be reported here that after the lungs are exercised in this field, the boys do right well together most of the time.

Teamsters leader Dave Beck went out to Cleveland the other day and told his boys publicly that anyone can strike, but that, "It takes guts and sound principles to say 'no' (to strike talk) . . ."

The AFL Meat Cutters leaders, controlling tens of thousands in the fields which feed America, met in Chicago last week and had the employers there to tell the delegates that the new automatic supermarkets won't hurt jobs, so they should work with the employers.

And an AFL Hotel Union removed its picket line for three days at the Whitman Hotel in Pueblo, Col., as a courtesy to the local Chamber of Commerce which had arranged a conference there months before the strike.

What is this thing called class struggle?

Medal Replica on War Hero's Headstone Carved by Bucyrian

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — When a marble headstone is placed next month on the grave of Rodger W. Young, famed Ohio World War II hero and Congressional Medal of Honor winner, the replica of the medal on the monument will represent the work of a Bucyrus stonemason and Monument works owner.

A replica of the medal was cut into the monument by Walter Houpt, 50, owner of the Bucyrus Monumental Works and fourth generation stonemason.

The Bucyrian said today he believes it is the first time that a Medal of Honor replica ever has been cut into a grave marker. He said the Young family had been trying for several years to have a memorial made, which would include the Medal of Honor alongside the usual engraving.

Houpt's great grandfather founded the Houpt Monumental Works, first making wooden crosses and grave markers. Next in line, his grandfather, William, took over the business after which Mr. Houpt's father, Harry, and the present owner.

Cut into the monument in addition to the Medal of Honor is the following "Rodger W. Young, Ohio, Pvt. Co. B, 148 Infantry, 37, Div., World War II, April 28, 1918, July 31, 1943."

The monument will be placed on Roger's grave in the McPherson Cemetery at Clyde in Sandusky

NEW YORK (AP)—Bowing to a police edict, leftists have agred not to hold their annual May Day parade tomorrow. They'll stage a May 1 meeting in Union Square, instead.

Previously, Leon Straus, chairman of the United Labor and People's May Day Committe, had declared a parade would be held despite the police ban. But yesterday, although unhappy about it, he called of the plans.

Col. Phelan Talks To Legion Women

Colonel John F. Phelan, officer in command at the Marion Engineer Depot, was a guest speaker for a meeting of Bird-McGinnis Auxiliary No. 162, American Legion, Tuesday night at the Dugout. He spoke on National Civil Defense.

During a business session preceding the program hour Mrs. Hester Harraman, poppy sale chairman, named Mrs. Elta Trickey, Mrs. Lucille Dial, Mrs. Jane Crissinger, Mrs. Adeline Straw and Mrs. Ann Hull to serve as captains for the sale to be held May 22. A contribution of $5 was made to the Girls State delegates and plans were discussed for the Gold Star Mothers dinner to be held May 11 at the Dugout. Mrs. Catherine Messenger announced an auction to be held at the Dugout May 25. An invitation was received to attend a meeting of the post Sunday afternoon, May 17, at the Dugout.

Following the talk by Col. Phelan, there was a social hour and refreshments.

President Lists Speaking Schedule

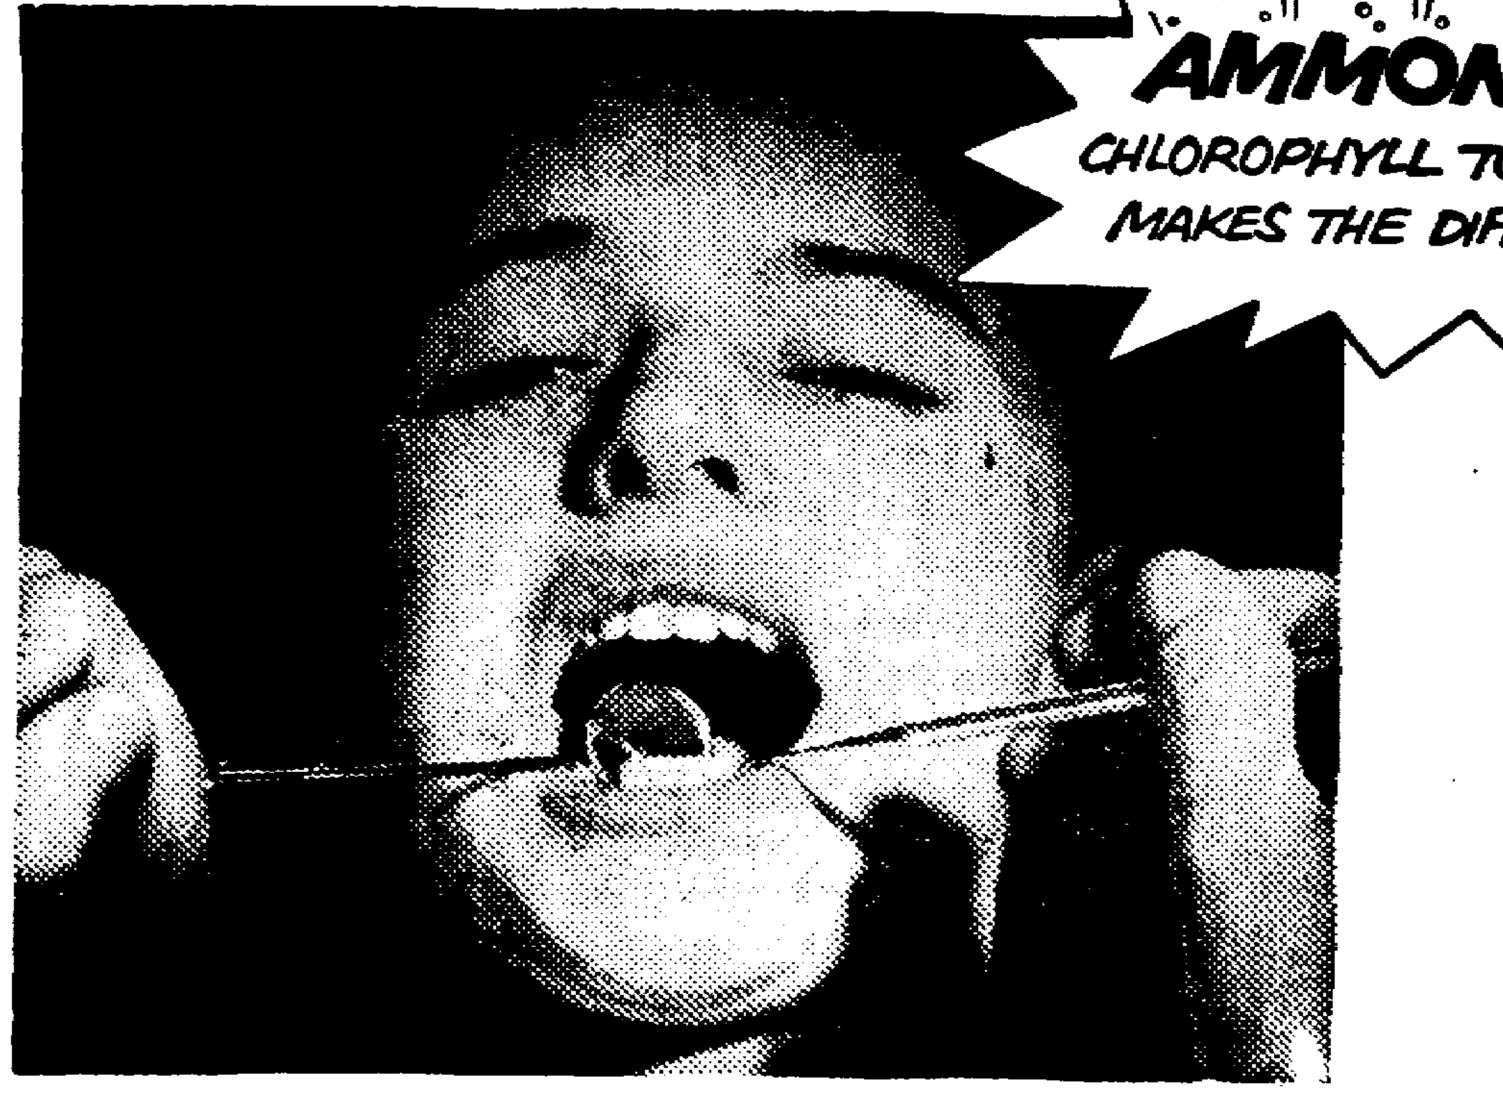
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is tentatively scheduled to make five speeches away from Washington from June 10 through June 14—with some fishing in between.

The White House said yesterday, the fishing probably would be in South Dakota's Black Hills midway in this speaking schedule:

June 10 at Minneapolis; June 11 at Garrison Dam, N. D.; June 11 at Rapid City, S. D.; June 14 at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H., and June 14 at Oyster Bay, Long Island, N. Y.

Your children can have fewer cavities!

AMMONIATED CHLOROPHYLL TOOTH PASTE MAKES THE DIFFERENCE!



This child used an ordinary dentifrice.

This child used ammoniated Ipana A.C.

IPANA A.C.'s ammoniated ingredients proved twice as effective to reduce decay

It's true! Many cavities can now be avoided! A 2-year test on 784 school children proved the ammoniated formula twice as effective in reducing decay as the ordinary dentifrice tested. That same ammoniated formula is in just one leading tooth paste—IPANA A.C.

No bad breath all day with CHLOROPHYLL!
Scientific odor tests proved that the chlorophyll in IPANA A.C. definitely stopped unpleasing mouth odors—in most cases even 12 hours after brushing. No other tooth paste offers evidence of such long-lasting breath protection.

Guaranteed not to stain!
The only tooth paste certified by the American Institute of Laundering! Unlike green tooth pastes that leave messy stains. IPANA A.C. washes easily from tooth brushes, towels and clothing.

The World Today

Tidelands Issue for Court

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—In these last few days before Tuesday's Senate vote on giving the states the oil-rich submerged lands off their coasts, the changes being suggested by a few senators probably will not get far.

But unless changes are made, the dispute about the undersea land, batted around in the courts for years, seems headed straight back to the courts to give answers which this measure doesn't supply.

Because it is so vaguely written, Atty. Gen. Brownell urged the Senate to be more precise or expect a dispute dragging on in the courts for years.

He wanted Congress to draw a line, which would show just how much of the submerged lands the states can develop. The Senate measure fails to do that, leaving the problem of states' boundaries up in the air.

In short, the legislation says the states can have the land under water but it doesn't say how much. That's something to be worked out later, somehow. What the measure says is this:

The states can have ownership out to a line to which they can make just claim. What is a just claim? It doesn't say. That's why, after long dispute, the Supreme Court may have to decide.

For most states, those with no offshore oil, the boundary may turn out to be three miles. For Florida, with no offshore oil, it may be 10½ miles. After the Civil War approved a Florida state constitution which claimed 10½ miles.

There is oil off the California shore but most of it is within the three-mile limit. For that state the boundary may be three miles. But Texas and Louisiana create a special problem and most offshore oil is off their coasts.

When Texas was a republic, its constitution claimed control of the waters in the Gulf of Mexico for 10½ miles of its coast. And Sen Daniel, Texas Democrat, says that's a just claim because Congress approved it when Texas was admitted to the Union in 1847. He said that is all Texas claims now.

But in 1947 the Texas Legislature claimed ownership out to the edge of the continental shelf, some 130 miles from Texas' shore.

The location of the oil off Texas' shore is significant. The estimated offshore reserve there is nine billion barrels, with only 400 million within the three-mile limit, 800 from three to 10½ miles, and 7,800,000,000 beyond 10½ miles.

The confusion over Louisiana's boundary is even greater. Its own state officials couldn't tell the Senate what the boundary is. The furthermost island of Louisiana's shore is 10½ miles out in the Gulf. In 1938 the State Legislature claimed a boundary of 27½ miles from the coast. But what is the coast? Is it the outermost edge of the outermost island, 10½ miles out? If so, Louisiana could claim a boundary 37½ miles out.

Or is its coast the shoreline of the state's mainland? If so, then can Louisiana claim only 27½ miles from the mainland? Or does the state, in spite of the Legislature's action, have any claim at all to more than the usual three-mile limit which is what most of the other states will get?

Louisiana's estimated offshore oil reserve is four billion barrels, of which only 250 million are within the three-mile limit and 3¾ billion are beyond three miles.

Upper Residents To Wed May 2

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lessig, of near Upper Sandusky, wish to announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Marilyn, to David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, of near Upper Sandusky, which will take place Saturday, May 2.

The ceremony will be performed in the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church with the Rev. E. Ted Wonder, pastor of the church, officiating. The custom of closed church will be observed.

CUT MILK PRICE

CANTON, O. (AP)—Canton milk dealers have changed their minds. They will reduce the price of milk two cents a quart to 21 cents per quart of standard milk, Friday. On April 1, in spite of complaints by producers that the consumer was paying too much at the retail level, they decided to hold the price line.

SEES NATO ONE-THIRD STRONGER. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles (left) shares a laugh with Chairman Robert Chiperfield (R), Illinois, of the House foreign affairs committee before reporting on his NATO meeting in Paris. Dulles said that NATO has taken steps to increase its combat effectiveness almost one-third by next December.

State Delegates Named By Crestline Legion

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE — Commander Ernest Bopp, E. G. Smith, Peter Kemle and Arthur O'Leary were elected as delegates to the state convention to be held in Cleveland July 24, 25 and 26, when McWhirter Post No. 488 held its regular meeting in the Legion Home Monday night. Alternates are Leo Simoni, Arthur Akers, Gene Burrer and C. E. Dray.

Frank H. McNeal Jr. of Crestline High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McNeal, was selected by the post to be sent to Boys' State at Camp Perry in June.

Two committees appointed for the nomination of officers to be held May 25 include C. E. Dray, Leo Simoni and M. V. Snyder; and B. J. Shafer, A. C. Smith and W. J. Meyers. The election will be held June 8.

A donation of $25 was made to the sesquicentennial committee for town decorations for Memorial Day weekend. All veterans are requested to march in the Memorial Day parade.

Plans were made for a buffet luncheon for Scout Troop No. 2, their parents, Legion and Auxiliary members when the troop sponsored by the post will be presented its charter. E. G. Smith, Charles Kockensparger and Pete Kemle were appointed as the committee in charge. The date to be set at a later time.

The McWherter Post will sponsor the bloodmobile in Crestline June 30. Reports of the Fifth District convention held in Plymouth on April 19 was given by the district commander, John Swaur, commander Bopp, and chaplain Kemle. McWhirter Post received a white placque for filling its membership quota. Crawford County, heading the membership in the district, was presented a white lantern which they will carry when leading the parade at the Little Convention in New London, June 21.

Newlyweds to Make Home at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Announcement is being made here of the marriage of Mrs. Blanche Wells of Oceola to James Hawk, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hawk of Bucyrus. The marriage took place April 18 in the parsonage of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Oceola with the double ring ceremony being read by the church pastor, the Rev. Donald R. Young. Mrs. Wells is the daughter of Roy E. Hale of Sycamore and the late Mrs. Hale.

The new Mrs. Hawk is a graduate of near-by Holmes-Liberty High School. Mr. Hawk, a Bucyrus High School graduate and a World War II veteran, is employed at the Bucyrus plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. They will make their home in Bucyrus.

Upper Musicians Take Top Ratings

UPPER SANDUSKY—The Junior Division of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs held its 1953 Music Festival at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Saturday.

The local Ernest Hutcheson Junior Music Club was represented by the following members, Martha Mohre, Diane Bloom, Diane Ross, Phyllis Beausay, Suzanne Suter, Jane Frank, Joyce Frank, Carol Ann Stover, Mary Jane Stover, all entering the festival in the piano section. Ann Koehler entered the vocal section. All participants received top ratings.

The local club holds second place on the National Honor Roll for 1952 and 1953. Phyllis Beausay compiled the club scrap book for 1953 which was awarded a superior rating. Ann Koehler was awarded a rating of excellent for an essay written by her on "Music That Particularly Interests and Appeals To Me."

The club scrapbook compiled by Miriam Hale for 1952 and the individual scrapbook by Joy Schoolfield, which received unanimous superior ratings in the state festival for 1952, were sent to New York City to be judged at the National festival. The club scrapbook received second place and the individual book third place in national competition at New York City.

Mrs. L. H. Houpt of Upper Sandusky is the local club counselor.

State Finds Dirty Work at Crossroads

SEATTLE (AP) — The State of Washington objects to some dirty work at the crossroads and has gone to court to remove it.

A complaint filed in Superior Court is labeled:

"State of Washington versus one pile of dirt, rock and gravel."

It seems someone left a pile of dirt, rock and gravel on the Kent-Auburn Road near here. A sign was placed on the pile demanding that it vacate the spot within 10 days. The pile paid no attention.

The court now is asked to declare the pile illegal and instruct the sheriff to get rid of it.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Marcia Mann, 18 months, died in a Columbus hospital Wednesday of burns received while playing with matches two weeks ago. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Mann of Galena, Delaware County.

Death March Described By Freed Yank

Less Than 40 Out Of, 350 Survived Bitter Cold in Red Korea

TOKYO (AP)—"I'll give you a week to live—I get your boots when they take you to the hill," a buddy told Cpl. Wendell H. Trefery.

"My buddy didn't want my boots—he was building up my morale," the thin, red-haired Treffery, of Terryville, Conn., said in an interview today.

The hill was the frozen, common grave of Americans who died while prisoners of the Communists at Kangye, Korea, in the terrible winter of 1950-51.

"I lasted the week," said Treffery. "And then he said he'd get my boots in another week. I kept on living—I wouldn't let myself die. Whenever I got awful low, really down in the gutter, I could hear my mother saying like she always said: 'Keep your chin up.' I'll never know how I made it but I'm here and alive."

Of 350 U. S. infantrymen captured by Chinese on Nov. 30, 1950, south of the Changjin Reservoir, Trefery is one of less than 40 still living.

His feet froze.

The flesh fell off his toes.

A Korean nurse snipped off eight of his toes with garden shears.

He broke off two with his own fingers.

During four attacks of dysentery, Trefery's weight dropped from 150 to 60 pounds.

A former medic with the 7th Division, he was one of the American prisoners returned by the Communists at Panmunjom last week. Here is his agonizing story as he told it today:

"We were caught in a Communist ambush, about 350 of us—Marines and 7th Division men. It was a hard fight but there wasn't any way out—we were surrounded.

"A Chinese hollered from the top of a hill—asking our senior officer to come and talk to him. Our oficers held a conference and then our senior officer, a Marine major, walked down the road and up to the hill. He talked to the Chinese and came back.

"The major had made a deal with the Chinese. The deal was, that our wounded would be sent back to our own lines if the rest of us surrendered. The promsie was not kept.

"The Chinese marched those of us away who could walk. We spent a freezing night in some cabins not far away. There were 120 of us then. Next morning we were marched back past where the ambush had taken place. The wounded were all still there, only now they weren't wounded. They were frozen to death, about 230 bodies.

"Of the 120 of us, many were wounded. I am a medic, and I did the best I could. The Chinese took away my bandages, tweezers and scissors but I hid my last six shots of morphine in my boot and when a man's pain got so bad he couldn't take it I'd give him a shot.

"There was a Texan, I remember. He was shot to pieces. I gave him one of the six shots and he slept one night because of it. I guess it was his last night—alive. Next morning, he was too weak to move, and the Chinese left him there to freeze and die.

"The march to Kangye lasted 18 days. We marched zig-zag and in every direction. I think they were trying to break us down. When a man couldn't go any farther and dropped out, he was left to die. The ones that dropped out—we never saw them again.

"I had a shrapnel wound in the chest, but it didn't bother me. On the second day, we walked through slush and that night I slept in a cow stall. The temperature dropped to about 20 below zero that night. I woke up next morning and my feet were frozen. The Chinese had us out in the road before I had a chance to get my toes unfrozen.

"On Dec. 10 the Chinese guards turned us over to Korean guards and the march went on. They have no feeling for human beings. They'd stick our men with bayo-

Columbus Pastor Speaks at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION—Speaking on the subject of the "Next Step in History," Dr. Floyd Faust of Columbus, advocated that this step be made through "World's Neighbor, Inc," when he spoke here, Monday night. He was guest speaker at a combined meeting of Galion's three service clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions. Philip S. Hesby, president of Rotary, introduced the speaker. The meeting was held at First Presbyterian Church, and was attended by more than 100 members and several guests of the three clubs.

Dr. Faust, pastor of the Broad Street Christian Church in Columbus for some 24 years, holds three degrees from Ohio State University, including a doctor of philosophy. In pointing out what we can do to fight Communism in a practical way, the speaker said that through "World Neighbors, Inc." we can help send technical experts and assistants to foreign lands, meeting the real need of the people in these lands by helping the people to help themselves. He said that an example of this is to send agricultural agents to show them how to farm; public health officials to improve the sanitation of these lands; engineers to help them develop their resources; teachers to show them how to speak and write their own language.

CLARIDON LADS

A poultry demonstration was given by William Dietsch of near Marion, a local feed representative, when the Claridon Buckeye Lads 4-H Club met recently. Kenneth Smith presided for the business meeting during which each member responded to roll call with suggestions on ways to increase the funds in the club treasury.

NLRB Orders Lima Plant to Bargain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations board today ordered the Lima Electric Products, Inc., of Lima, O., to bargain collectively with the Metal and Machinery Workers of America, an independent union.

The board found the company guilty of unfair labor practices in refusing to bargain with the union and threatening employes with reprisals for union activities.

The NLRB ordered the company to stop interrogating workers about their union affiliations.

The NLRB found the Metal and Machinery Workers to be the lawful bargaining agent for all production and maintenance workers at the plant, which manufactures electric motors.

FIND TAX DISCREPANCIES

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Auditor Albert Stetzer announced here today that a routine check of personal property tax payments made by county residents has been completed by Bert Williams, an examiner with the Ohio Department of Taxation. Approximately 300 discrepancies were found by the examiner and the taxpayers were called in to make adjustments, the auditor said.

nets and laugh and joke about it.

"Of the 120 who started the march, 80 got the valley camp at Kangye where we spent the rest of the winter. The Koreans locked all of us up in a big room. They wouldn't let us out to use a latrine. So our living quarters were our latrine. We all had dysentery by that time and you can see that the room wasn't a good place to be after awhile.

"When a man died, the Koreans would tumble his body out of the room, and take it up the hill to the grave. Once, the men among us who could walk were allowed to fix a cross and stagger up the hill to the grave and plant the cross there. . ."

In Memory
Of our dear wife and mother. Mrs. Grace Key who passed away one year ago April 29, 1952.

Sweet are the memories that never fade,
Of the one we loved but could not save:
Always so true, unselfish and kind.
Few in this world her equal you will find.
A beautiful life that came to an end,
She died as she lived. every one's friend.

Man Unhurt In Accident

Struck by Auto While Crossing Street

An elderly Marion pedestrian escaped injury in one of four minor traffic accidents reported today by Marion police.

Daniel D. Betz, 83, of 196 Barnhart St. was struck by a car driven by Glenn E. Barkley, 25, of Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus at Orchard and W. Center Sts. at 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Betz was walking east on W. Center St. and Barkley was making a left turn from W. Center St. onto Orchard St., police reported. The car struck Betz on his left hip, but he told police he was not hurt.

A car driven by Homer T. England, 40, of Tiffin and a police cruiser driven by Virgil H. Campbell, 38, of 946 Congress St. were damaged in an accident in the 100 block on S. Main St. at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday. Police reported the accident occurred when England pulled from an outside lane into the side of the cruiser in the center lane. Both cars were traveling north.

The left front fender and radiator grill of a car driven by Oren W. Hatch of 589 Lee St. were damaged when his car struck the rear of another car driven by Helen Buch of near Marion. The accident occurred at 5:44 p.m. Wednesday at Silver and Leader Sts. Mrs. Buch's car was not damaged. Both cars were traveling north on Leader St.

A car parked in front of her residence and owned by Wave Millisor of 482 Polk St. was damaged when struck by a car driven by Charles Arndt, 64, of 259 Forest St. at 8:11 p.m. Wednesday. The right front of Arnd't car was also damaged.

Ashley "Pioneer" Has Record Of Early 19th Century Life

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—A glimpse of what life was like back in the 19th century can be had by just talking with Edmund R. McCurdy Sr., of southeast of Ashley.

McCurdy's collection of items from "yesterdays" includes a Delaware County atlas, dated 1866, and a "last will and testament" of his great grandfather, Daniel Jones, dated 1808. The three red wax seals of the state used on the envelope containing the will are still in good condition and the inscription legible. A drawing of the original land tract is included, he reported.

A March 2?, 1865, copy of the Delaware Gazette, containing a report of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address is another of McCurdy's prize possessions.

McCurdy, who's 87 now, made his debut in the world at the farm on the Scott McCurdy Road, just three miles southeast of Ashley in Oxford Township, and there he remains. The farm which was originally the pride and joy of his great grandfather, Daniel Jones, has gone through several changes in its 150-year existence, according to the will.

The original tract of land was comprised of some 1,000 acres and was willed to Daniel's daughter, Mariah, McCurdy's grandmother, in 1808. The present 180 acres handed down to McCurdy and his wife, Edith, is shared by the couple with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Weiser, and their four children. Parts of the original tract are now occupied by other families. Predecessor to the 72-year-old farm home in which the McCurdys live, was a log cabin

Although he'll note his 88th birthday August 6, McCurdy still likes to help with the chores. He cares for the horses and cattle and does his own fence mending and repair work, leaving the crop planting and harvesting to his son-in-law. He is also active in neighborhood affairs and is a member of Ashley Grange and the East Oxford Association.

The McCurdys' son, Edmund Jr., is manager of the Ashley branch of the County Farm Bureau. There are six grandchildren.

Bucyrus Man Charged With Writing Bad Check

Carl Edwin Campbell, 37, of near Bucyrus was arrested Wednesday night by Marion County Sheriff's deputies on a fraud charge. He is accused of writing a bad check.

He was to appear in Marion Municipal Court today to answer the charge filed by Harold R. Valentine, former operator of a restaurant at the intersection of Routes 23 and 4 north of the city limits.

The warrant signed by Valentine alleges Campbell isued the check in payment of a bill at his place of business last Jan. 27. The check was drawn on the second National Bank of Bucyrus for the sum of $24.40.

Hearing Set June 1 On Road Improvement

The Marion County commissioners today set June 1 as the date for a hearing on assessments for an improvement project asked on the Boston Road.

The project for the improvement of the existing roadway will affect four property owners. The road is located in the Pleasant Acres Addition, south of Marion.

The county engineer has estimated the cost of the road at $3,989.95.

Power Hitters Continue Bombardment of Bleacher Seats

Adcock Belts Long Drive To Polo Grounds Stands

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sportswriter

If the current rash of long-ball hitting in the majors continues, they're going to have to supply the bleacherites with outfielders' gloves.

First it was Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, then Ed Mathews of the Braves, then Mantle again and now Joe Adcock of the Braves. And the season is only two weeks old.

Mantle still holds the record for the campaign, his first blow traveling 562 feet. That probably won't be equaled for a long time.

But in the matter of accomplishment, Adcock's yesterday off a pitch by the Giants' Jim Hearn was the most notable wallop. It came with one on and helped the Braves to a 3-2 triumph over the Giants.

More important, though, it was the first ball ever hit into the center field bleachers of the Polo Grounds during a regular season game. The ball traveled 475 feet.

"It surprised the heck out of me," Adcock said. "I knew I had gotten good wood on the ball, but I never thought it was going to travel that far."

The hit came in the third inning, and the Giants eventually tied the game. As things turned out, the Braves had to win it in the ninth inning when knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm let loose a wild pitch. Adcock got to first base when Al Dark made a bad throw on his grounder. He stole second, and advanced to third on catcher Sam Calderone's poor throw. Jim Pendleton went in to run for Adcock and scored on the wild pitch.

The league-leading Philadelphia Phillies lost a full game to the Brooklyn Dodgers, but the second-place Chicago Cubs also were beaten, so Chuck Dressen's defending champions gained on both leaders.

It wasn't that the Phils minded losing so much. It was that the defeat came in a game that pitcher Curt Simmons would had won 99 out of 100 times. He gave up only three hits, but the St. Louis Cardinals beat him in the 11th inning of the night contest, 1-0, when Bill tage of the Phillies' lapse and went down to a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the struggling Pittsburgh Pirates. By their victory, the Buccos moved into a tie for sixth place with the Giants.

Little Murry Dickson went all the way for the Pirates, who looked as if they were about to drop another one when the Cubs scored twice in the eighth to break a 1-all tie. But they came right back with three in their half of the inning. Pete Castiglione knocked in two runs with a timely single.

The Dodgers edged the Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-5. Roy Campanella tied the score with a home run with one on in the eighth, and reliefer Joe Black threw just one ball to gain credit for the victory.

Redleg catcher Hobie Landrith let the winning run in when he was charged with a passed ball in the ninth. Carl Furillo, who was on third after doubling to open the inning, scored.

In the American League, the Indians gained half a game on the idle Yankees when Early Wynn pitched them to a 2-1 decision over the Philadelphia A's. The tribe now is one game behind the Yanks.

Both Indian runs came about in the same way. In the third Dale Mitchell singled, scoring Ray Boone, who had singled and gone to second on a sacrifice. In the fifth, Mitchell again singled, this time with Wynn, who had singled and advanced on a sacrifice.

Bob Porterfield hurled the Washington Senators to a 3-0 conquest over the Chicago White Sox. All he needed was one run in the third inning to wrap it up, but catcher Les Peden hit a home run in the eighth and Clyde Vollmer singled across another run in the ninth.

The Boston Red Sox pulled their average up to .500 by bombing the hapless Detroit Tigers, 10-4. Sammy White knocked in five runs and George Kell went into the league lead in batting with a .457 average. The loss was the Tigers' 13th in 15 games.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Iberia High School students are still yelling "We told you so." And the celebration probably will continue for the next week, even spreading throughout Morrow County.

The Presidents pinned a 5-1 defeat on Cardington's Pirates for the title in the championship game of the county tourney, marking the first time in a 10-year period the Pirates had failed to cop the championship.

Dan Baker's outfit has taken the win in stride and the entire county, including Cardington, is pulling for it in the district tourney.

SHORT

Pitching told the story throughout the county classic and the Prexies held a slim margin in that category. Dick Maidens, Walt Chambers and southpaw Eddie Stall, who handcuffed the Pirates in the title game, gave the Iberia crew a tough front line.

Hard-luck pitcher of the tourney was Chesterville's Dick Perkins. The Pirtates managed to post a 6-5 verdict over him in the semifinal round.

Two runs were scored against Perkins in the second inning without benefit of a hit and despite three strikeouts.

Perkins whiffed the first two men he faced before a team mate booted an almost certain out. Following that miscue, a momentary loss of control caused Perkins to pass four batters in a row to force in a pair of runs. He struck out the next man.

Green Camp has drawn a first round bye in the Central District Class B Baseball Tournament which opens action Friday at Columbus.

The Marion County champs will meet the winner of the Columbus St. Mary-Pickaway Township game on the Ohio State University No. 2 diamond Monday. Columbus St. Mary and Pickaway Township are scheduled Friday at the Columbus North field.

Coaches of the 18 teams in the tourney met Wednesday night at the Seneca Hotel in Columbus for the drawings.

Two other area teams are scheduled for action Monday. Mt. Gilead will meet Walnut Townships of Fairfield County at the OSU No. 4 diamond and Iberia will take on Columbus Holy Family at the Columbus South diamond. Radnor meets the winner of the Dublin-Renoldsburg game Monday also.

All games in the tournament, scheduled for Friday, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, will get underway at 4 p.m. There are two brackets and the two district champs will advance to the regional at Columbus.

Redlegs Find New Methods Of Losing

Latest Donation Made On Passed Ball; Team Sinks to Cellar

BROOKLYN (AP)—When a team drops behind Pittsburgh's outfit of misfits in the National League standing the situation is getting serious. And that is just what the Cincinnati Redlegs have done.

The Cincinnatians donated a 6-5 decision to Brooklyn Wednesday afternoon and a few hours later they dropped into the National League basement — even behind Pittsburgh—when the Pirates edged the Chicago Cubs.

It was a passed ball that came with the bases full and two out in the ninth that beat the Redlegs.

Wynn Allows Four Hits In Gaining Victory No. 2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seven of the Cleveland Indians' last nine ball games have been decided by one run.

For the sake of Manager Al Lopez's ulcers and the blood pressure of thousands of Ohio fans, this sort of thing should stop.

The Indians edged Philadelphia's Athletics 2-1 here Wednesday for their fourth one-run-margin victory. They've lost three of these close ones.

Early Wynn won No. 2 against no defeats and allowed the A's four hits. He credited an 18-mile-an-hour wind of Lake Erie.

"With that wind behind me, I figured nobody was going to hit one over the fence. You could take a chance and get the ball in there."

The run that spoiled Wynn's shutout was the last tally of the contest. Eddie Joost doubled in the sixth for the only extra-base blow of the game, and Eddie Robinson's single brought him home.

Southpaw Alex Kellner, losing his first after three victories, gave nine singles, and the top three men of the Tribe batting order—Ray Boone, Bob Avila and Dale Mitchell—got two each. All three hit in the third when Cleveland scored its first run on Mitchell's pop fly which the wind carried over shortstop Joost's head.

Wynn singled in the fifth, advanced on Boone's sacrifice and came home on Mitchell's second single—this one a solid blow to left.

Third baseman Al Rosen ran his string of safe-hit games to 11 and needs five more to equal Luke Easter's 1952 pacemaking run.

Hogan Tabbed As Pan-Am Favorite

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Ben Hogan, golf's semi-retired capitalist, ruled a heavy favorite to add to his coffers as play opened today in the 72-hole Pan American Open championship.

Lloyd Mangrum, defending Pan Am titlist, said he was passing up the event because the sponsors offered Hogan a $5,000 appearance bonus while the same sort of lure wasn't given him.

The Pan Am sponsors denied the $5,000 offer to Hogan.

Sam Snead also was absent, and officials of the Mexican tournament said they had been given no reason for his failure to show.

was the granddaddy of them all, said Manager Rogers Hornsby after the game.

The Reds had blown a 5-3 lead in the eighth when Roy Campanella hit a home run with Jackie Robinson on base. They almost scored on their own in the top of the ninth and then came the brutal finish.

Bubba Church had relieved Howie Judson on the mound. Carl Furillo opened with a double for the Dodgers. Gil Hodges was walked intentionally. Dick Williams sacrificed them along and Junior Gilliam was walked intentionally. Peewee Reese popped out but on Duke Snider's second strike the ball got away from catcher Hobie Landrith and Furillo romped home.

Earlier, the Reds had done a little coming from behind on their own. They wiped out a two-run Brooklyn lead in the second. A single by Willard Marshall and an error by Reese on Roy McMillan's grounder set it up for Landrith to drive them both home with a triple of the center field wall.

Snider's home run put Brooklyn back into the lead in the fifth but Cincinnati burst forth with three runs in the sixth. They came on Bobby Adams first home run of the season and then another round trip wallop by Marshall after Ted Kluszewski had singled and been forced by Jim Greengrass.

Linkmen Set for Play

Inclement Weather Slows Golf Activity

Activity at the Mar-O-Del and Country Club golf links has been slowed down due to the weather and managers at the fairways are hoping the weatherman will give his go-ahead signal.

The links have been opened for about two weeks now but the unfavorable weather has slowed down golfing. Jack Stoddard, pro at the Country Club, and Ray Augenstein, co-owner of the Mar-O-Del course with Marion Hinklin, say.

Golfing won't really get into full swing until Memorial Day.

Augenstein reports that a school masters tournament was held the past Sunday at the Mar-O-Del course. The Marion school teachers plan another tourney during the last part of May, he said.

Augenstein said tournaments haven't been lined up yet, but added he expected they would begin during the first part of May. He said industrial shops were attempting to be lined up for tournaments.

Stoddard said the Ladies Golf Association would begin its weekly golf tournaments and luncheons the first week in May and that the June.

Stoddard recently returned to the Country Club after competing in some major golf tournaments in Mexico, Texas, California and Arizona during the winter.

He participated in the San Diego Open in California, the El Paso and San Antonio Opens in Texas, the Tucson and Phoenix Opens in Arizona and the Mexican National Open in Mexico. Stoddard said he didn't finish in the money, but he shot a 66 at Tucson and a pair of 71's in the Mexican Open. He carded a double eagle on the par five 8th hole in the Mexican tourney, a distance of over 530 yards. It was Stoddard's first appearance in a series of big tourneys.

John Kayatin hit 243 and Lloyd Johnson struck 648 for honors in the Craftsman League at Marion Recreation Tuesday. Three other 600 series were rolled, and there were 18 200-games carded in the league. Furniture Hospital rolled 975 and K of C, which tops the league at 62-40, recorded 2729. Spotless Cleaners, 58½-43½, rates second and Carroll's Jewelry, 54-48, is next.

Harry Peifer's 237 and Elmer Schultz's and Robert Shoemaker's 614's showed the way in the Classic League at Palace Recreation Monday. Two 600 series and 24 games over 200 were posted in addition to 45 500-series. Richman Clothing took team honors with 797-2837. Ohio Vapor Chemical, 62-34, leads the league. Lords Jewelry and Dan Dee Pretzel are tied for second spot with 54-42 marks and Richman Clothing and Smart and Waddell, both with 54-43 records, are next.

A 223-593 performance by Max Roseberry highlighted action in the Nite Shift League. Two 200-games were carded. Erie No. 1 rolled 880 and Nite Hawks did 2477. Erie No. 3 is setting the pace in the league with its 60-42 mark while Erie No. 2, 56-46, and Nite Owls, 52½-49½, trail. K-9's, 51½-50½, rank fourth.

Gene Martin shot 210 but was tied for series honors by Charles Burns, who also fired 521, in the Automotive League. Drumm Nash, leading the league at 88-48, annexed team honors with 855-2455. Fleet Service, 85-51, is second with Lautenslager Motor, 79-57, slightly in front of Marion Frozen Food, 77½-58½.

Palace League bowlers Monday were led by J. Gorenflo's 219 and H. Pritchard's 568. Corner Grill, 63½-35½, tops the league with Eagle's No. 2, 58-41, second and Center Grill, 57-42, third.

10 Class A Schools Set for Friday's Relays

Harding's track team hosts ten other Class A schools Friday night at the Stadium in quest of its third straight title in the fourth annual Marion Night Relays.

Upper Sandusky, Delaware, Galion and Painesville will be making first appearances in the meet. Other entries are Bexley, Worthington, Findlay, Fostoria, Tiffin Columbian, and Upper Arlington.

Ken Somerlot's harriers are after the rotating trophy offered by Midtown Chevrolet. The locals have copped the relays two straight years and a third win means they can keep permanent possession of the award.

Some of the relay standards are expected to be shattered. Harding holds five of these marks. Paul Ludwig had a 15.7 clocking in the 120-yard high hurdles and a 46-foot, 5½ effort in the shot put. John Ashworth has a 4:43.5 timing in the mile run and has run the 880 in 2:01 and Paul Geissler is credited with a 22.0 clocking in the 220-yard dash.

Other marks include a 10.4 timing by J. Montague of Bexley in the 100-yard dash; a 53.0 clocking in the 440 yard dash by Bill Garnes of Findlay and a 5-foot, 8½ effort in the high jump; a 20.1 performance in the 180-yard low hurdles by Jim Tucker of Fostoria; an 11 foot, 2 inch vault by Dean Caldwell of Findlay; a heave of 129 feet, 6 inches in the discus by John Tate of Fostoria; a 20 foot, 6½ inch leap by Harry Groman of Tiffin in the broad jump; Upper Arlington's 3:39.3 time in the mile relay; and Findlay's 1:35.5 performance in the 880-yard relay.

Finals in running events will get under way at 7:30 p.m. after field events which begin at 6 p.m. At 3:30 p.m., preliminaries for the 100 and 220-yard dashes and 120 high and 180 low hurdles will start. Sterling Geesman of Ohio Wesleyan is the starter.

A sidelight will be the 880-yard relays for county and MAR-DEL League junior high schools.

The meet winner will receive a trophy offered by Vance Sporting Goods. Trophies will also be awarded to the runner-up team and winners in the 880-yard and mile relays. Medals will be awarded to the top three men in each event and ribbons to the next two. The individual high scoreman will receive a trophy also.

Admission to the event is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

OHSAA Eyes Early End For State Meet

Attempts to Prevent Late Finishes In Field Events

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Ohio High School Athletic Association gave the press and the patrons a break today as it completed plans for the state track-field meet at Ohio State University May 22-23.

For years the big hold-up in final tabulation of points at the cinder carnival has been late-finishing field events, generally the high jump and pole vault. Sometimes as much as an hour has elapsed between the finish of the track events and the final leap in the two tests.

But this year the Class B pole vault and broad jump will be run off Friday afternoon, while preliminaries are being held in both Class A and Class B high and low hurdles, the half-mile relay and the 100-yard-220-yard and 440-yard dashes.

Saturday morning the Class A broad jump, Class B high jump and the shot put in both classes will start at 9:30 a. m., with the discus in each division getting under way at 10:15 a. m.

That clears the way for the 11 Class A and nine Class B finals in the afternoon. The Class A pole vault has been moved up a half hour to 12:30 p. m. and the Class A high jump from 2 p. m. to 1 p. m., assuring that both will be completed when the running events are concluded.

The new time schedule will send the customers home in time for dinner, and permits the press to gets its stories into early editions.

Owners of 12 Kentucky Derby Entries Going After First Win in Classic

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The 79th Kentucky Derby Saturday might well be labeled the "Newcomers Derby," for not one of the owners of the 12 probable starters ever has seen any of his horses led into the winner's circle and crowned with the garland of red roses.

And with the exception of Greentree Stable, owned by John Hay Whitney and his sister, Mrs. C. S. Payson, and Charles T. Fisher's Dixiana Farm, no owner ever has had more than one thoroughbred in the $100,000 added 3-year-old turf classic.

Greentree, which will be represented by the well-regarded Straight Face Saturday, sent out two winners, Twenty Grand in 1931 and Shut Out in 1942, but in those days the stable was operated by Mrs. Payne Whitney, mother of the present owners.

Since it was established in 1921, Greentree has made 96 horses eligible and 16 have carried the famous watermelon pink and black silks to the post in 10 derbies. In addition, John Hay had a lone entry before his mother's death.

Dixiana colors, which will be flaunted by Spy Defense Saturday, have been represented in nine previous derbies but never came closer than second, with Sweep All in 1931, Spy Song in 1946 and Sub Fleet last year.

Of the others only Alfred Vanderbilt, owner of the mighty unbeaten Native Dancer; Mrs. Gordon Guiberson of La Jolla, Calif., whose Correspondent is the second choice; and Harry F. Guggenheim, master of the Cain Hoy Stable, ever have sent a horse to the post in America's most spectacular race. They've each had one. Cain Hoy's hopes, and they are high, will be Dark Star, easy winner of yesterday's Derby Trial.

Although he has been a liberal nominator to the Derby, you have to go back to 1934 to find the other Vanderbilt starter. That was the famous Discovery, which ran second to Cavalcade. Mrs. Guiberson's silks were sixth with Arroz last year and Guggenheim, former U. S. ambassador to Cuba, wound up sixth with the favored Battle Morn in 1951.

With the entry box scheduled to open at 7 a. m. tomorrow, the other entries with owners are expected to be: Royal Bay Gem, Eugene Constantin, Jr.; Invigorator, Saxon Stable of John Allison and Max Prestridge; Ace Destroyer, T. M. Daniel; Curragh King, E. M. Goemans; Money Broker, G & G. Stable of P. A. Grissom and Edward Grosfield; Ram o' War, and Social Outcast, Vanderbilt.

There also is a possibility that the name of Mr. Paradise will be dropped into the entry box although trainer Howard Hoffman doesn't expect him to start. Social Outcast likewise may not be at the post for the 4:30 p. m. getaway.

If it comes up mud, and the predictions are for possible showers, Vanderbilt definitely will send Social Outcast as a running mate for his illustrious Dancer. And there is a chance he'll go with the track fast.

Silverstein Wins Armory Match

Ruffy Silverstein whipped Jim Henry in the main event of Wednesday night's wrestling card at the armory. He won the first fall in 12 minutes with a cobra twist but Henry evened the count with a full nelson after seven minutes in the second. Silverstein pinned Henry in the third and deciding fall.

Sammy Silvers and Ben Lombardi, who subbed for Bill Miller, went to a draw in their semi-final bout. Silvers took the first fall with a crab hold after 17 minutes but Lombardi managed to gain the second in 20 minutes when he reversed a crab hold.

Joe Scarpello won the one-fall opener when Jules LaRance was disqualified for kicking after 23 minutes.

Toledo Pitcher Tops Pace Setters

By The Associated Press

Rookie Charley Bicknell, 165-pound righthander who posted 9-11 for Hartford last year, hurled a neat four-hitter Wednesday night as Toledo downed Indianapolis 3-2 and dropped the Tribe out of first place in the American Association.

St. Paul, unscheduled, took over the lead by a half game margin.

Bicknell walked only one man and retired the last 13 batters in order. Both of the Indians' runs were unearned.

Kansas City topped Louisville 3-2. The Blues' Bill Skowron singled in the eighth, to keep his hitting streak alive at 11 games.

In the only other games, Charleston bombarded three Columbus pitchers for 16 hits and a 12-3 victory.

Davey Wins First Bout In Comeback Try

Scores 10th-Round TKO Over Giuliani Despite "Pressure"

DETROIT (AP)—"I was scared. I could feel the pressure of all those people looking at me."

But he probably didn't feel any pain. He was too elated for that.

He had just started his comeback in impressive fashion, scoring a technical knockout over Sammy Giuliani in 31 seconds of the 10th and final round of their nationally televised fight at the Olympia.

"I was tense tonight," he said. "Everybody was looking at me and I knew it. But the pressure wasn't as bad as against Gavilan."

Last February Gavilan knocked him down four times to successfully defend his welterweight title.

Gavilan flaunted his skills that night, turning southpaw like Davey. Giuliani tried the same—and the results were disastrous.

"I did my best work when he turned left-handed," Davey said. "I got through his guard and got in some good whacks. He's a rough boy but his punches are club-like, not like Gavilan's sharp blows."

Giuliani, a willing 20-year-old brawler from Stamford, Conn., carried the fight to his 27-year-old opponent in the earlier rounds. Two roundhouse rights staggered Davey in the third round.

Giuliani also opened up a cut over Davey's right eye in the third round and blood poured from it for the rest of the way.

From the fourth round on, Davey pecked away at head, body, head, body. Sammy became an easy target. He stood flatfooted and Davey danced in, out and around him, at times landing at will.

Referee Clarence Rosen, after consulting with the ring physician, finally called a halt in the 10th. Giuliani had had enough, even though his handlers didn't think so.

Two Ohioans Among POWs in Stockade on Yalu

Returnee Lists Names of 81 Still in Prison Camp

TOKYO (AP)—A Virginia corporal fresh from a North Korean prison camp today gave the names of 81 Allied troops he said were still in the camp.

Cpl. Everett W. Ritenour, 21, Woodstock, Va., said all of those named were in "pretty good shape" when he left Red Prison Camp No. 5 on the Yalu River.

A check of the official list of the prisoner list turned over to the United Nations Dec. 20, 1951, showed most of them to be on the list.

In Honolulu, a returned American prisoner told the Army he memorized the names of 50 U. S. soldiers listed as missing or dead but who actually were held in Red prison camps.

The Army confirmed the report but refused to release the repatriate's name or the names of his 50 fellow prisoners. A spokesman said disclosure of the names "might lead to reprisals against the men still in Communist hands."

The Army did not comment on Ritenour's list.

Ritenour was among POWs tentatively docketed for return to the U. S. today or tomorrow.

He gave the following list of names and addresses of the prisoners and said each had written his name and address in a notebook so that Ritenour could notify relatives they were still alive.

The list follows as it was given by Ritenour:

1. Cpl. Robert H. Ghyers, 1109 Washington Ave., Curruthersville, Mo., care of J. C. Green, father.

Family of Soldier From Wadsworth Elated at News

WADSWORTH, O. (AP)—The family of Pvt. Joe E. Homonai, 21, was happy today with the assurance of an Army buddy that he was alive in Red Prison Camp No. 5 in North Korea.

"Every word makes a difference," said a sister, Mrs. Margaret Moyer. "Mom felt right along everything would be all right."

Joe's twin brother John received a discouraging letter from Joe about two weks ago. It was written in December. John was in an Army hospital in Korea when Joe was captured but has since been discharged.

Today was the second time The Associated Press brought word of Joe's safety to the family. His picture was taken in a POW camp by Frank Noel, The Associated Press photographer imprisoned by the Communists, and it was published Feb. 2, 1952, in many of the nation's newspapers.

Rush Word To Family Of Ohio Soldier

ENTERPRISE, O. (AP) — This Hocking County farm community of 125 persons received the good news today that one of its sons, Pfc. Rudolph A. Pavlik, was alive in a prisoner of war camp near the Yalu River in North Korea.

Cpl. Everett W. Ritenour, 21, of Woodstock, Va., a prisoner of war exchanged by the Communists, listed Pavlik among his friends still in the clutches of the Reds.

Mrs. Andrew Mathias, proprietor of the village's general store, said Pavlik was captured about 29 months ago. She said the soldier's father was in the store Wednesday and commented he had not heard from him for some time.

The Pavlik home, back in the hills some distance from Enterprise, has no phone. But Mrs. Mathias said, "We'll get word up to them some way."

Both Ohio POW's named by Ritenour have one sad thing in common — both have lost a parent and neither knows about the death.

The father of Pvt. Joe Homanai, 21, of Wadsworth, the other Ohio prisoner, and Pavlik's mother have died since the soldiers' imprisonment.

Martel Seniors To Present Play

Seniors at Martel High school will present the play, "Look Out, Lizzie," Friday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Included in the cast will be: Beverly Smith, Penny Hayes, Barbara Wilson, Carol Lee Raish, Sonny Worcester, Jim Worcester, Bill Vollrath and Gale Loyer.

The play centers around the only child of a backwoods Indiana farmer who falls in love with a stranger from the city, much to the disapproval of her family, and especially her father.

Italy Makes Peace With San Marino

ROME (AP)—A truce finally has been declared in the pocket-size cold war betwen Italy and San Marino—a 38-square-mile Communist state on the Adriatic.

After years of bickering, the two republics signed a "friendship and good neighbor" treaty yesterday in Rome's Chigi Palace. Tiny San Marino—completely surrounded by Italy—agreed to refrain from operating gambling casinos or building radio and television stations os teh whi dwrh toeifti luence which would interfere with those in Italy. Italy agreed to pay bankrupt San Marino 15 million lire ($24,000) yearly in customs fees and to sell her more tobacco.

Bucyrus Church Women Schedule May Luncheon

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Mrs. H. E. Andrews, a member of the faculty at Ashland College, will be the principal speaker at the annual May fellowship luncheon of the United Church Women of Bucyrus to be held Friday noon at Epworth Methodist Church here.

Theme of the meeting will be "Citizenship—Our Christian Concern" and the subject of Mrs. Andrews' address will be "The Twentieth Century Woman."

During the business meeting, there will be brief annual reports and election of officers. The nominating committee includes Mrs. Ward Light of the Church of Christ, Mrs. Luther Wilson of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and Mrs. S. A. Leuthold of First Methodist Church

Includes Activities for Boys and Girls

Full Intramural Sports Program Planned in Fall

A full-scale intramural sports program, made possible by new facilities, is planned at the new Harding High School next year.

Tentative plans call for the program to include basketball, ping pong, volleyball, and possibly touch football and tennis.

There will be areas set aside at the new school for girls athletics, and another for the boys, which will include a full baseball and softball diamond.

There will be facilities in the new gym for shuffleboard, and badmitton in addition to basketball and volleyball, Cecil Gabler, Harding Principal, announced.

The activities will be on a short term basis, Gabler says, probably in the form of tournaments. Teams will be formed from classes and clubs in the school, such as the band, the printing club and vocational clubs.

A schedule for the intramurals has already been set from 3:20 to 4:30 in the afternoon. Boys will have two nights a week for intramurals and the girls two nights.

Gabler said the school is planning to designate someone to supervise and direct the program. High school athletes will officiate the events.

Gabler pointed out the purpose of intramurals is to afford those who do not make teams at the high school the chance to participate in athletics.

Harding High has a very limited program now, Gabler said, with arrangements being made for games between groups after school. This only occurs now and then and is not a part of the regular schedule. The groups usually play basketball and some softball

Girls have play nights and participate in organized sports occasionally.

The section to the east and south of the new high school, where most of the athletic events will be played, is now being graded. The section will include an outdoor gym with tennis courts and basketball goals around the edge; the girls sports area where any of the outdoor games can be played; the boys sports area where a softball and hardball field will be laid out; a full football practice field; and combination basketball and volleyball courts.

Fighting Jet Skipper Aims at 15

Florida Ace Ties Record For MIG Kills, Gets 12th

SEOUL (AP) — Capt. Manuel Fernandez shot down his 12th MIG today in "the roughest fight I ever had" to tie the individual record for destruction of the Russian-built Red fighters over Korea.

The scrappy 27-year-old jet ace from Miami destroyed the MIG in a fierce air battle just south of the Yalu River. He tied the mark set last month by Col. Royal Baker of McKinney, Tex., who has gone home.

Ground fighting remained light for the fifth straight day.

Fernandez, who asked for 25 more missions after flying the required 100, has 14 left. He's going after the over-all mark of 14 Red planes set by Maj. George Davis, who destroyed 11 MIGs and three propeller-driven planes before he crashed in Red territory in February, 1952.

Red broadcasters took advantage in the ground lull to blare across to Allied troops:

"Thank you for your good treatment of our prisoners of war."

A woman's broadcast voice cooed in the Panmunjom truce sector:

"There is peace in Korea. Lay down your arms."

In the biggest skirmishes early Thursday, three South Korean raider patrols killed or wounded 46 Reds on the Eastern Front.

Bucyrian Donates Church Organ

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Announcement was made here today of the gift of a new electric organ to the Evangelical-United Brethren Church at New Winchester, southeast of here, from John Q. Shunk, Bucyrus philanthropist and retired industrialist.

The Rev. Darrell Halter, pastor of the church, said the organ has been installed and a dedicatory service will be held Sunday, May 10.

Earlier this month, Mr Shunk purchased a residence in Crestline to house the Crestline municipal museum.

Mr Shunk is a member of Bucyrus St. Pauls Lutheran Church. A few years ago he contributed approximately $100,000 for construction of the Shunk Memorial parish house, which adjoins the church.

One of Dozen Housing Development Projects

New "Miracle City" Planned in Ohio Atomic Area

WAVERLY (AP) — "Ohio miracle city" is among a dozen housing developments now in the planning stage in Pike County, site of a $1,219,000,000 gaseous diffusion plant, says Spencer B. Randall, county planning engineer.

A Los Angeles company headed by Ralph D. Brown, formerly of Columbus, O., recently purchased a 122-acre tract a mile north of the plant site on route 124 for $73,000.

The firm reportedly plans 200 homes plus business locations and recreation facilities.

Since announcement of the AEC plant site signs of subdivision development have been few. Nevertheless, the planning engineer is busy reviewing and suggesting revision of plats for sub-divisions.

"The picture is in better shape today than 30 days ago," Randall said. "in another 30 days, actual work on grading should be noticed in several proposed subdivisions."

To date, Waverly has been slated for the most permanent housing. Officials say this is because Waverly is the only community in the county with municipal water and sewage plants. Approval from FHA hinges on water supply, available sewerage and proximity to corporations.

Detailed plans for "Waverly Heights," a 115-home development by the Shelby Construction Co. of New Orleans, need only approval of the "go ahead." The homes have ben given FHA sanction.

Already under construction in Waverly proper is the site for 16 inland homes.

David Berg interests of New York have received the nod from FHA for 115 homes on Route 335 east near the Waverly High School.

Adjacent to the Berg development is "Forest City" subdivision being planned by a Cleveland materials company. Two hundred homes have been proposed in this vicinity by American Homes. Mrs. R. E. Hamilton of Huntington, W. Va., has announced she is planning 450 units on a 190-acre tract, west of town and south of Route 220.

Neighboring Mrs. Hamilton's land is an FHA-approved 130-home tract proposed by National Homes. Architectural firm of Jennings and Lawrence of Columbus is working on detailed plans.

Definite announcement of two government housing developments recently was made. Two hundred and fifty units have been approved for Waverly on Route 220 east of town. Central Construction Co. of Oshkosh, Wis., was awarded the contract on a $1,481,500 bid.

William E. Bergeron, PHA director for the Chicago district, reported the houses are to be completed 238 days after actual construction is started.

The Cissna Farm, east of Piketon on Route 124, has been selected for 500 additional government housing units.

J. W. Cooper, Piketon merchant, plans a private housing development of 52 lots atop Pike Hill on Route 124 east.

Betwen Piketon and Beaver, near Zohn's Corner and Route 124, work has been started on grading streets and excavating for storm sewers on Lynndale Subdivision. Being developed by Columbus interests, 200 units are proposed but as yet have not been approved.

Approximately 17 trailer parks now are in operation in the county and construction is being completed on an additional 18.

Career Carver

By Inez Robb

There are still persons in this country who believe that no boy will ever get ahead in life by just sittin', whistlin' and whittlin'.

INEZ ROBB

But they are persons who have never heard of W. R. "Bill" Brinley, who through 27 years of sittin', whistlin' and whittlin' has parlayed a pocket knife into a $100,000 investment.

That is the insured evaluation of Bill's mammoth five-ring miniature circus which he started carving at the age of nine after his father took Bill to see his first circus.

IT WAS a case of love at first sight for Bill, who lives in Meriden, Conn. Bill said, "I never wanted to be a clown or a bareback rider or an animal trainer. All I wanted to do from the age of nine was to own a circus.

"The moment I got home from that first circus I took out my pocket knife and started to carve myself a circus. The first thing I carved was a bandwagon because I loved bands so much, I guess."

In the 27 years since, including a hitch in the air force during World War II, Bill has continued to carve until Bill Brinley's five-ring miniature circus today comprises more than 500,000 individually hand-carved pieces.

Brinley's circus, as complete in every detail as Ringling Brothers, includes two complete circus trains, 65 brilliant circus wagons, 165 ferocious beasts and trained jungle animals, a cavalcade of freaks, a congress of daredevil performers, side show thrills, fun and laughter.

THIS BIGGEST little show on earth is carved in exact and loving detail on a scale of three-quarters of an inch to the foot. The circus lot is a platform 25x25 feet square. The gigantic big top with a seating capacity of 10,000 is 16 feet long and nine feet wide.

"The herd of 20 prodigious pachyderms includes three baby elephants," Bill explained. "My herd

Meanest Thieves Plague a Blind Woman Farmer

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Twelve years ago Alice Haines and her mother, then 65, invested $6,500 in a run-down, 45-acre farm in Fairfield County, Va.

At the time Miss Haines, who was stricken with ocular tuberculosis and is now blind, was a writer in Hollywood. The loss of vision, forced her to seek new means of support, and while her mother held a daytime job, Miss Haines saw to the chores of a chicken farm.

With 300 laying hens, Miss Haines netted a profit of $6 per hen her first year in the enterprise. Business flourished and the publicity given to her effort brought more prosperity through the years. It also brought trouble.

Unbelievable as it may seem, people actually began to raid the chicken farm. She lost as many as 750 chickens in one night by such means as outright hijacking to more scientific methods like anesthetizing the birds.

Not only were there forays against her henhouse, but her sheep began to disappear, too. In a single operation, 22 of her ewes fell prey to motorized rustlers.

"With each new story I'd lose some more biddies or sheep," said Miss Haines.

Unable to handle the problem of thefts any longer, Miss Haines plans to sell the remnant of her flock of 3.000 hens, buy some more sheep and turn her talents to sod farming.

"It will be hard for thieves to pick up sod and haul that away," she said.

Just in case her new project fares no better than the chicken farm, however, Miss Haines' resource will not be exhausted.

Sought out as she is by her neighbors for advice in chicken and sheep raising, and, of all things, concentric plowing, she can always stand in as a consulting expert in these matters.

DURING World War II, when Bill was stationed in Alaska with the air force, he carried his pocket knife and jig saw with him just in case. The two polar bears in Brinley's circus were carved in Alaska although Bill never saw one in its native habitat all the time he was in Alaska.

"I never saw a seal either," he said in some chagrin, "but at least I saw some Eskimo kids chewing on seal meat."

"Yes, naturally the circus has cooch dancers," he said in answer to my query. "Three, in fact. They always make money for a circus."

Now that spring has come Bill is ready to put his show on the road even as Ringling's.

BRINLEY'S circus will tour the country, coast to coast, this year as in the past, showing in department stores, theaters and specialty shops.

"Whittlin' is sedentary relaxing, and soothing to the nerves. Just what modern man needs," Bill said.

"You might even say," he added as he ducked through the door, "that a persistent man can carve himself a career."

Power Problem

By George Sokolsky

When the British Labor party socialized about 20 per cent of the British economy, many in the United States were outraged. But they say nothing about the socialization of about 25 per cent of the American power industry on the theoretical basis that it would improve our rivers. If, for instance, TVA were operated on a business basis, it would have had to repay the Treasury for the investment of the United States in this enterprise.

SOKOLSKY

The task force of the Hoover Commission calls attention, in its report on the TVA, to this part of the law establishing this enterprise, which reads:

"In order, as soon as practicable,. to make the power projects self-supporting and self-liquidating, the surplus power shall be sold at rates which, in the opinion of the Board, when applied to the normal capacity of the Authority's power facilities, will produce gross revenues in excess of the cost of production of said power. . ."

THE TOTAL amount repaid by TVA to June 30, 1952, was approximately $40,000,000. The task force recommended a method of calculation, set up on a basis of amortizing the total investment in 50 years with interest at 3 per cent per annum. Such a calculation, brought up to June 30, 1952, would show that TVA should have repaid the Treasury the amount of $200,000,000.

It would be interesting to know exactly on what basis TVA works out a loss of approximately $160,000,000 to the Treasury and to the American taxpayer. What happens to that money?

The difficulty with reading government figures is that ordinary accounting methods are not used and it takes great skill to discover where the money is hidden.

In this connection, it is important to note that in his campaign speech at Little Rock, Arkansas, on September 3, 1952, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"Finally, we can have a completely honest government . . . a goverment that will report to the American people on every single item of responsibility concerning its stewardship."

-:-

SUCH A REPORT on the entire TVA transaction is needed. It might be done with such simplicity as Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey employed in his statement of our legacy.

At Boise, Idaho, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"Now, we have had for a long time a government that applies the philosophy of the left to government. The government will build the power dams, the government will tell you how to distribute your power, the government will do this and that. The government does everything but come in and wash the dishes for the housewife."

This is not unlike the speech ex-President Hoover delivered at the Case Institute of Technology on "Federal Socialization of Electric Power," in which he said: private power can do more with checks and balances than governmental power without checks and balances."

FURTHER, he said:

"The first step toward socialization was taken when the federal government undertook itself to generate and distribute this electric power from multiple-purpose dams. And now the federal government has taken further socialistic leaps by building steam and hydro plants solely for the generation of electric power."

To this, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said:

"A former president of the United States says, 'Let us get rid of the power dams and all the great public resources.' "

Of course, Mr. Hoover never said anything of the sort. The ex-President only advocated what he always believed, that the federal government make some money out of these plants by selling the power at a fair rate and by leasing government-owned plants to private enterprise, or to municipalities or to state governments or to authorities, like the New York Port Authority, which does a very good job in its own sphere of limited activity.

IN A WORD, the ex-President feels that we can no longer afford the luxury of losing money on enterprises on which we can make money.

Actually what is happening is that the federal government is in competition with private enterprise; the federal plants do not make a reasonable return and pay no taxes; the private plants will ultimately find it impossible to compete with tax-free govern-

Home Council Of 6 Counties Holds Meeting

Morral Woman Elected Head Of District Group

Twelve members of the Marion County Home Demonstration Council, along with Miss Lois Simonds, county home demonstration agent, attended the annual meeting of District No. 4 of the Council Tuesday in West Mansfield.

A total of 140 women from six counties, Logan, Union, Hardin, Hancock, Wyandot and Marion, were in attendance. Morning and afternoon sessions, with a luncheon at noon, were held in the West Mansfield Methodist Church.

Mrs. George Bosley Jr. of Morral, Marion County, was elected to the office of president of the district. She served as vice president last year. Named to serve with her were Mrs. Jessie Conrad of Magnetic Springs, Union County, vice president; Mrs. Harry Buchagen of Kenton, Hardin County, as secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Franklin Park of Bellefontaine, Logan County, public relations chairman.

Mrs. Bosley presided for the luncheon program.

Attending from Marion County were Mrs. Bosley and Mrs. George Bosley Sr., Morral; Mrs. Gomer Johnson, Mrs. Walter Rothfuss, Mrs. Ellsworth Drake, Mrs. Edwin Morrow, New Bloomington; Mrs. Oscar Kaelber, Waldo; Mrs. Robert Klatt, Grand Prairie; Mrs. Allen Longacre, Mrs. Ralph Lyon, Caledonia; Mrs. Dan McClaskey, Mrs. Wilbur Mochel, Pleasant.

Featured speaker for the day was Miss Barbara Cruikshank of Delaware County, who last year was an International Farm Youth Exchange student to Scotland. Her subject was "Let's Go To Scotland."

Nevada May Day Program Will Be Held Friday

Special to The Star

NEVADA — Wilma Armbruster and Arden Monroe will reign over the annual May Day festivities at Nevada High School on Friday night, May 1. They and the court were chosen at a recent student body election, sponsored by the Student Council.

The court includes Joyce Farmer and Joel Klink, seniors; Eva Mae Heistand and James Steinhilber, juniors; Jane Monroe and Arthur Williams, sophomores; Joan Schilling and Richard Gerber, freshmen; Judy Kellogg and Glenn Kuenzli, eighth grade; and Suzanna Suter and Kenenth Bell, seventh grade. In addition, the following first graders will serve as crown bearers and flower girls: Ronald Suter, Melvin Goldsmith, Neva Springer, Elaine Thomas, Joan Gerber, and Sandra Lawrence. Larry Gongwer and Jan Kuenzli will herald the approach of the court, and Richard Tschantz will be the announcer.

The following program will be presented: Maypole Dance by the 5th and 6th grades; dramatization of the "Gingerbread Boy" by the first grade; square dances by the second grade; piano duet by Beth Traxler and Theora Disher; grand march by the third grade; acrobatic stunts by the fourth grade court jesters; a polka by the 7th and 8th grades, and finally, the Maypole dance by the high school girls dressed in formals. The program is planned by the grade school teachers, Miss Jean Schwebel, Mrs. Maurice Steinmetz, Miss Esther Aten, Mrs. Patricia Reed, Mrs. Dorothy Kinsley, and Marion McEvoy; dance instructor, Mrs. Shirley Healy, and school music instructor, Miss Mary Lou Fetters.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charged.

WILL AUDIT TRACKS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes said Tuesday his department will audit the financial conditions of all race tracks granted permits for this year by the state racing commission.

Marion Parents Hear From Wounded Son

Mr. and Mrs. Cutler A. McGrew of 546 Delaware Ave, received two letters over the week-end from their son, Pfc. Leroy W. McGrew, written after he was wounded April 17 in Korea.

Although he did not refer specifically to his wounds, Pfc. McGrew assured his parents that he was feeling alright. He disclosed that he was a patient in the Tokyo Army Hospital.

ABOLISHING WAR

Editor of The Star: It is my belief that most of the common citizens of about all of the countries dislike fighting. And yet, when one nation declares war on another, it is these general folks from each country who are forced to do the fighting. The leaders, who are the ones who create the fighting between nations, are the ones who take a back seat and direct the fighting, from a back seat.

They do not expose themselves to the horrors or tragedy of the conflict. No! Instead, they sit in the background and play the game as any person might play a game of chess.

But what can the common people do about about? Not much! They just have to get out and fight, whether or not they are in accord with the idea.

Is there nothing, we can do about it?

After giving careful thought and consideration to the subject, I believe that I have at last come up with a solution to the problem.

My plan could only be inaugurated during a time when peace is dominant throughout the world. But if such a plan were to be adopted by every nation, or at least, every major nation on the globe, I really believe that there might be a solution to the problem of that terrificaly hated word—war.

My plan is just this: If it were just possible to get all of the leading countries to adopt a rule which should be made universal through out the land, I believe we would soon see the end of conflict and strife.

This would be my rule: Any nation or world leader who wished to promote a conflict, should see to it that the leaders, or whom-so-ever wished to start a conflict, should be made to go up in the front lines and direct the war from there and should enlist only volunteers who wished to join him in the front line.

In my opinion, this might bring about a peaceful solution to problems and disputes among the nations of the world.

Another thing: A great many of the problems which face us today are brought about by one person being unable to comprehend or understand his neighbor's point of view. It would be a wonderful thing if at least one person, or pupil from each and every school in our country, could be sent on a trip to different foreign countries, where they might learn to understand their neighbor's point of view, and get to know them better.

In this way they might return to their school and present the different schools in our country, and those abroad.

First, however, I believe that this business of racial prejudice which is so prevalent in our own country should be abolished.

After all, we are all created by the same Father, and are truly brothers under the skin. It is just the matter of color, or religious affiliation, that is holding us back.

That is where we could begin facing the obstacle now.

CROWN CAVALCADE
The PREDECESSORS of ELIZABETH II

No. 10: Edward I. Ruled England 1272-1307.

Born: 1239 at Westminster, eldest son of Henry III and Eleanor of Provence. Of Edward I, John Richard Green said in his great History of England, "His very temper was English to the core. In good as in evil he stands out as the typical representative of the race he ruled; like them, willful and imperious, tenacious in his rights, indomitable in his pride, dogged, stubborn, slow of apprehension, narrow in sympathy; but like them, too, just in the main. . . ." It was his precept that "what touches all should be approved by all," and under him began the political institutions of modern Britain. He began the conquest of Wales, and endeavored to bring Scotland within his realm. He stole the Stone of Scone, the coronation seat of Scottish kings for centuries, and carried it to Westminster. This and other acts of his postponed the union of the two kingdoms for 300 years, it is said. Edward was the first to make his heir Prince of Wales. That he did so when the heir was an infant in arms is a baseless legend. The investiture took place when Edward II was 17.

Poultry - raising in Edward's time, as shown in a 14th century Psalter.

Legal Question Raised by Ohio Spy's Confession

WASHINGTON (AP)—The confession of Thad Mason that he spied for the U. S. Communist underground in World War II, left this unanswered question today:

"Have time and the technicalities of law made such spy rings safe from prison?"

Sen. Welker (R-Idaho), whose Senate Internal Security Subcommitte heard Mason's bizarre story Tuesday, told reporters the statute of limitations which forbids prosecution after a period of years probably has laped in specific cases Mason described.

In a televised hearing, Mason said he stole the blueprints for military landing craft engine parts from an industrial plant about 1944-45 and smuggled them to fellow Communist spies. He said he also stole a livestock medicine formula.

Welker said the lean, bespectacled witness "is far from through" with his penitent confession. He declined to say what Mason may tell of more recent events and added no date has been set for Mason's further testimony.

Mason did much of his spying in Cleveland. Born in Poland, he spent his formative years in Steubenville, O., and was graduated from Ohio State University.

PROSPECT SERVICE

Sermon theme at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Prospect Sunday morning will be "Fruitfulness as a Condition of Discipleship." Wednesday night next week, the Katherine Luther Guild will hold a guest meeting with Mrs. Donald Hedges as hostess. The speaker will be Mrs. William Oberdorfer of India. Devotions will be by Mrs. Paul E. Dobberstein, and special music will be a part of the program.

Check Issuance Means Jail for Galion Man

GALION — Donald E. Rogers whose residence is the Galion Armory, was bound over to the Crawford County grand jury, Tuesday, under $1,000 bond. Appearing before Mayor Jay F. Nichols, here, he was charged with issuing a check with insufficient funds.

The check, drawn on a Honaker, Va., bank, in the amount of $10 was cashed at Jackson's Texaco service station late in January. Rogers was arrested here this week.

Results of several other cases heard before the mayor this week included: Herbert Brown, 37, a truck driver of London, Ontario, Canada, fined $25 and costs, in a charge of indecent exposure which took place during an incident in a Harding Way East restaurant, Monday. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended when he paid the fine and costs. He was in Galion to return equipment to Canada by truck.

Honor Marion ROTC Student At Ohio University

Daniel Walter Chapman, Ohio University senior from Marion, is one of 25 men who have been designated as distinguished military students in the Air Force ROTC corps there, it was announced today by Lt. Col. John K. Graham, director of the corps.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Chapman of 243 Kenmore Ave., Chapman is enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in recognition of scholastic attainment, and is presently president of the Ohio University Student Chapter of the American Institute of Physics.

He attended grade school at St. Mary and was graduated from St. Charles High School in Columbus.

The students received the distingushed designation in recognition of their high academic standing and their demonstrated leadership as Air Force ROTC cadets. They are all candidates for distinguished military graduates at the June commencement exercises and will receive special consideration when they apply for regular Air Force commissions.

RECOVER CITIZENSHIP

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—Ex-Nazi Otto Strasser, who fled to Canada when he broke with Hitler, won a court decision here today to recover his citizenship.

The U.S. government spent about $51,700,000 in 1952 on farm research and development.

Declares Red Tactics Drove POWs Insane

TOKYO (AP)—Some Americans in Communist prison camps went berserk because of "constant pressure" from booming loudspeakers and long lectures in the hot sun, a young California corporal said today.

"I can't estimate how many became mentally sick," Cpl. Cecil V. Preston, 21, of Sausalito said at Tokyo Army Hospital.

"Sometimes a man would be walking along. He would see a Chinese guard — or one of the American prisoners we called 'progressives' —and would start chasing him. He would lose control of himself because he was so mad at the Communists."

Preston said the guards didn't shoot because they realized "they were sick."

The Californian said that of 200 in his prison company "20 or 30" fell for the Communist line. The other prisoners called them "progressives," he said.

Preston, repatriated at Panmunjom last week, was wounded and captured Jan. 1, 1951.

Vienna Rolls Offer Good Flavor, Crisp Cuts

Bread is the kind of fare that spells the cheery glow of the family kitchen and the never-to-be-forgotten fragrance of brown loaves, fresh from the oven. Your popularity with family and guests will score a new high when you serve these rolls at your next dinner. They'll win approval for their special flavor and crispy crust.

VIENNA ROLLS

Ingredients: 1 pkg. yeast, compressed or dry, 1 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry), 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons shortening, 2 egg whites, beaten, 4 cups sifted enriched flour (about), poppy seeds.

Method: Soften yeast in ¼ cup water. To the remaining water add sugar, salt and shortening. Add 1 cup flour, beating well. Add softened yeast and egg whites. Mix thoroughly. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Knead until smooth and satiny (5 to 8 minutes). Shape into smooth ball and put into lightly greased bowl. Grease surface lightly. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 1½ hours). Punch down and divide into small portions for rolls. Cover and let rest 10 minutes.

Shape into Vienna rolls. Sprinkle with poppy seeds. Place 2½ inches apart on greased baking sheet. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in hot oven (450 F.) 20 minutes. Place large flat pan filled with boiling water on bottom of oven to give crustiness. Makes 2 dozen rolls.

Eaton Again Heads Portsmouth Steel

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP) — Stockholders of Portsmouth Steel Co., veterans of stormy fights over liquidation, quietly re-elected seven directors and looked over an annual report Wednesday.

Only 12 shareholders attended—but they represented more than 70 per cent of the stock. A minority group, which in past years fought bitterly to get the concern to quit business, did not renew the fight this time.

Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland was re-elected president and chairman of the board. Reelected directors included J. J. Anzalone, William R. Daley and Dr. Fay A. LeFevre of Cleveland; Edward J. Helmick and Robert S. Marc of Cincinnati and Max J. Zivian of Detroit.

Grand Prairie PTA Elects New Officers

Officers were named when the Grand Prairie PTA met Friday night at the school for its April meeting.

President is Robert Rhea. Other officers are Burton Eastman, vice president; Mrs. Charles Francis, secretary; Miss Beatrice McIntosh, treasurer; and Mrs. Floyd Kelley, reporter.

The first part of the evening was spent visiting classrooms where pupils had work on display and then the parents assembled in the gym for a short program.

The program included several folk games by the first four grades; two trumpet numbers by Emily Pride; two numbers on an electric guitar by Steven Beard; and a duet by Emily Pride and Steven Beard on their instruments. A nutrition report was given.

The business meeting followed and was conducted by the PTA president, Mrs. Kirk Moreland. Devotions were given by Elder P. D. Hite.

It was announced that the school would close on May 15 and that at 7 p.m. on that evening, there would be a picnic at the school for all the parents, children and friends of the community.

U.S. Boosts Output Of Medium Tanks

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will have on hand by the start of this summer about 13,000 medium tanks, still far short of the estimated 40,000 of all types generally credited to Russia.

But, an Army spokesman said today, there is no intention or desire to match Soviet armor, tank for tank, any more than there is attempt to match the huge Russian-satellite force man-for-man.

Several factors are involved in this planning. If a war should start tomorrow, the spokesman said, "current tooled-up production lines could be accelerated to keep us supplied in quantity with superior tanks."

Moreover, Army tacticians do not subscribe to the theory the only way to beat an enemy tank is with another tank. The spokesman said that "under certain circumstances, it is true that the best —and, incidentally, the most expensive—way to fight a tank is with another tank."

But the Army also relies on other antitank weapons, including the recoilless rifle with its "shaped" charge for penetrating tank armor by a burning action, and the familiar bazooka and rifle grenade launcher for close-in fighting.

Another apparent factor, unmentioned by the Army spokesman, is that the 13,000-tank figure shown in Defense Department information consists only of medium gun tanks. It does not include either the new light tanks, which have been in volume production for well over a year, or heavy tanks just going into production. The 40,000 estimate for the USSR is presumed to include all categories of tanks, including obsolete ones.

POW Forced to Stare At Sun as Punishment

TOKYO (AP)—An American soldier freed last week by the Communists said today the Reds forced him to stare wide-eyed at the sun for two hours as punishment for being sarcastic during questioning.

"I couldn't see for three days," Cpl. Pedro A. Herrera of La Madera, N. M., said.

Herrera said a Chinese hit him in the forehead with a bayonet for talking back when the guard cursed him.

The New Mexico infantryman, a former member of the Eighth Regiment of the First Cavalry Division, said he knew of one American forced to stand on ice until both his feet froze.

U.S. Steel Ups "Extra" Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest steel producer in the nation, United States Steel Corp., is joining others in the industry in raising "extra" charges on its steel products.

These are charges made to cover the cost of additional operations involved in altering sizes, grades and finishes of steel to meet specific requirements of a steel customer.

Benjamin F. Fairless, U. S. Steel chairman, announced the plan to revise "extras" Tuesday, without saying when the changes would be made.

He said the corporation "does not contemplate a general increas in base prices at this time." Extras are added to a base price to determine the selling price to the customer.

Fairless indicated any change in base prices would be deferred until after wage neogitations with the steelworkers union are concluded. The union has called for a general wage increase without specifying the amount it will ask. It says steelworkers wages now

ENDORSE MANIFESTO

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Eight of Hungary's 11 Roman Catholic bishops today endorsed the Communist government's recent manifesto put forth as a platform for the Parliamentary elections May 17. Missing from the bishops' pastorial letter to Hungarian Catholics were the signatures of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, now serving a life term in prison, and Joszef Archbishop Groesz, who is serving a 15-year prison sentence.

Music Pupils Win High Ratings In Ohio Festival

Twenty Marion and area music pupils participated in the annual Ohio Federation of Music Clubs Junior Festival held Saturday at Ohio Wesleyan University, Sanborn Hall.

Eleven were members of the Youth of Marion Lecture-Recital Club, four were Junior Lecture-Recital Club members, two were Juvenile Club members, and three were "special member" entrants.

Members of the Youth of Marion Lecture-Recital won outstanding honors at the festival in both instrumental and voice classifications.

One of two gold certificate awards given in the state went to Sally Schneider, pianist, in recognition of her third years as a "superior" rating winner. She was entered in the musically advanced Class II, piano solo division. Entered in the same class was Linnea Gonzalez who won a rating of "good." She is a pupil of Mrs. Griselda Davis Dombaugh.

In the piano solo very dificult Class I, Susan Kinsler won a grade of "excellent" as did Roger Jamison who was entered in Class II. Together with Miss Schneider they are pupils of Mrs. H. T. Williams.

Piano Concerto entrants, Madelyn Marsh, soloist, and Carolyn Jones, accompanist, won "excellent" rating. They are pupils of Miss Emma in voice class III; Margaret Ann Romine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paris Romine, Chestnut St., "very good" in voice elementary III; Marilyn Kunnert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kunnert, near Upper Sandusky, "good" in piano difficult Class II.

Accompanists for the voice students were Mrs. Cecil Davis and Mrs. Virgil Curl. Teachers sending pupils and attending were Mrs. Eugene Moore and Mrs. H. T. Williams. Mrs. Curl is councilor for the Marion group. Others attending were Dennis Chapman, Mrs. Edwin Carey and Mrs. Paris Romine.

Ratings received by the special member entrants were: Miss Co sey, a junior at Harding High School and voice pupil of Prof Gordon Almstead at Wesleyan, "superior" in the contralto division; Patty Rittenspaugh, six-year old Nevada girl, "superior" in piano, Howard Klehm, "excellent" in piano. The latter two are pupils of Mrs. H. T. Williams of Marion. Mrs. LeRoy Schneider is state junior "special member" chairman.

The juniors will present their numbers at the club's annual May program to be held May 10 at 2 p.m. at Hotel Harding.

Returnee Relates Story of Slaughter By Reds in Cave

TOKYO (AP)— Half - conscious American Marines huddled in a cave during the battle for Reno Hill last month were slaughtered by Chinese soldiers who hurled grenades and sprayed the cave with burp gun fire, a Marine survivor related.

Marine Pfc. George F. Hart of Wantagh, N. Y., lived through the Western Front battle March 26 but was wounded and captured by the Reds. He was exchanged at Panmunjom last week.

Hart and 40 other Leathernecks were in a small cave on Reno when the Chinese struck.

"Of the 41 in the cave," he said, "I know of five besides me who got out alive. There may have been others."

"The Chinese started a terrific artillery and mortar barrage about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and they never let up," Hart said.

"The Chinese dug through the roof of the cave and sprayed us with burp guns and pitched grenades in on us. I could tell the bullets and grenades were hitting their marks because the unconscious men began moaning. There weren't any screams—just moans. A grenade bounced off my foot and exploded and I got shrapnel wounds in the hip and hand. I

Rev. Lowery Talks to Lions

Speaks on Topic 'What Catholics Believe'

"What Catholics Believe" was the subject of a talk by the Rev. Thomas Lowery, assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, Monday, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club, at Hotel Harding.

Giving as the two most important things in the life of a priest the offering of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and the administering of the Sacrament of Penance, Father Lowery gave a brief description of confession and the confessional, emphasizing the privacy and secrecy of the sacrament. Under no circumstances, except with the consent of the person making the confession, may a priest divulge anything told in the confessional, he stated.

Priests do not marry, he told his audience, in order that they may devote their lives and time to the people, thereby becoming a spiritual father and in this way embracing all. In the Oriental church, he stated, a priest may before ordination, marry. In explaining the Catholic Church's ruling on fasting and abstinence, he pointed out the material as well as the spiritual benefits, derived from these denials and in his explanation of the Rosary described the devotion as a chain of praise offered to the Mother of God. He also gave requirements for becoming a priest, his age, studies, college, philosophy, theology and finally his ordination.

During the business session a report was made on the progress of plans for the Soapbox Derby sponsored by the club, and the purchase of a hearing aid for a local boy just returned from Children's Hospital in Columbus.

Guests included Dr. J. M. Stevenson, a past president of the Borrksville, Ky., Lions Club and R. W. Fishbaugh of Vandalia, O.

To Lady Astor

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—An open letter to Lady Astor.

Dear Lady Astor:

You have raised a lot of false male hopes by your statement that women today seem to be getting dumber and dumber.

It isn't fair to mislead men that way. It stirs within them the will-'o-the-wisp dream that maybe women will become so dumb a man will be able to get back his equal rights again and compete with them on fair terms. That is unlikely.

Women may seem ot act dumber on the surface, as you say, but they are actually getting smarter and smarter, if the accumulation of more power is the proof of brains.

A man groans and sweats to build a skyscraper. A woman praises his perspiration, pats him on the back, bides her time—and bye and bye she owns the building.

You complain, dear lady, that women today take everything for granted. Why shouldn't they? It is a sensible attitude. Everything is granted to them. A fact is a fact. The dominant position of the unfair gender is the victory of feminine intelligence over aimless male groping.

Men never knew what they really wanted in this world, and half the wars they have fought throughout history were the result of their boredom. Women do know what they want today, or think they do —power. Public power. It is a new toy to them, and they enjoy playing with it.

As long as woman stood on her age — old pedestal no one could tell whether she was wise or foolish. She kept silent because she was weak, and the only strength of weakness lies in remaining silent.

But success likes to brag about itself. The heady wine of triumph loosens the tongue.

That is why some women today seem to be getting dumber. They are so strong that they are willing to open their trap on any and every subject — from baseball to politics — and let out their natural, normal, human ignorance.

It was there all the time, but hidden. Women don't mind showing their ignorance now because they are sure of themselves. And they get more powerful all the time.

Woman is a brimming reservoir of all kinds of powers, physical, mental, moral and legal. She can do something no biologist can imitate in a laboratory. She can marry a male worm, turn him into a man, and when he starts acting like a rat, she can reduce him of in your sex is only the arrogance of new authority, certain of its muscle.

The only hope for the future of men is that women, drunk with power, may start to quarrel among themselves. For when kings fall out — or in this case, queens—lesser breeds may make a gamble for the thrones.

And if women start belting each other around, men may band together and regain their lost bosshood. Hit 'em again, Lady!

sincerely,
Hal Boyle

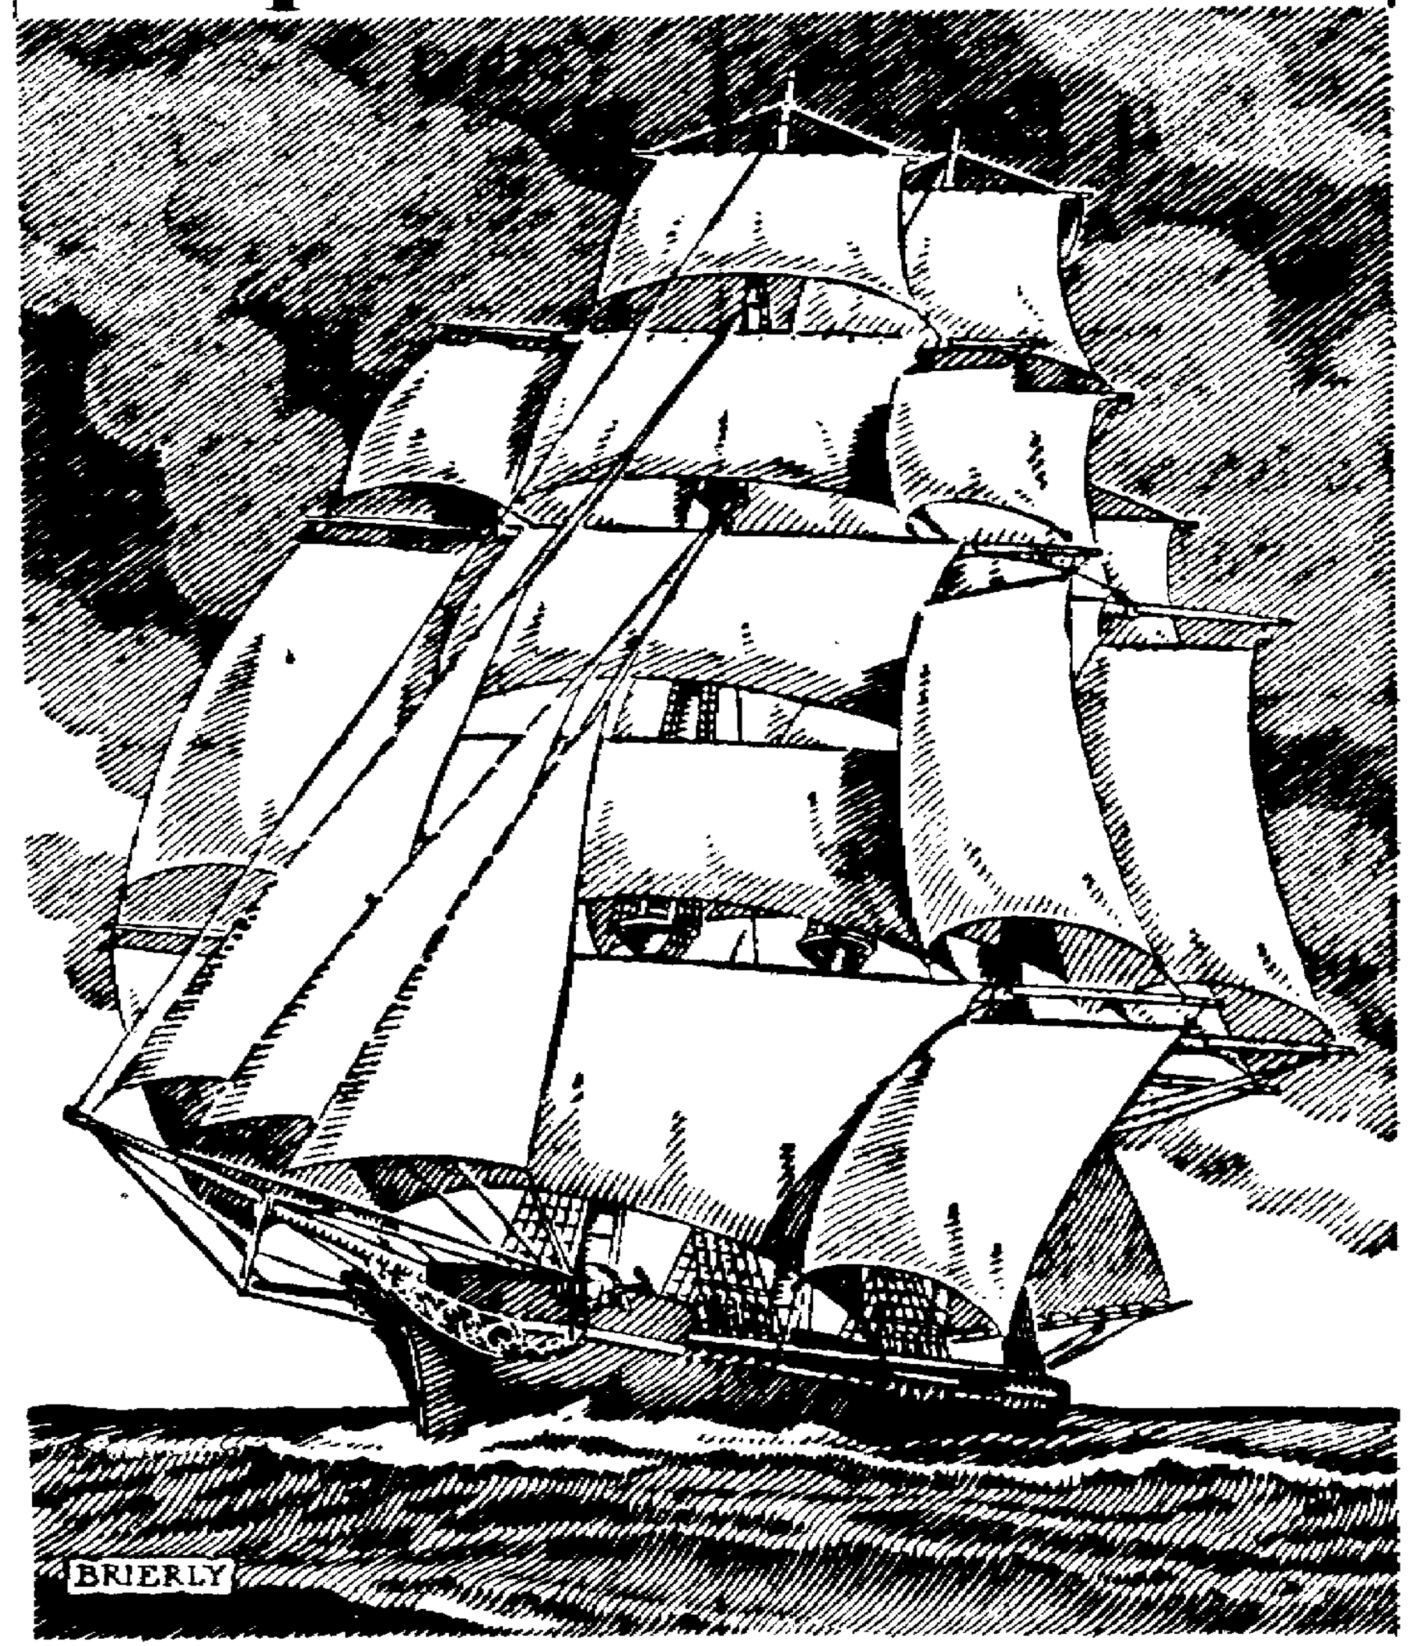
Ships of America—8



The FLYING CLOUD

This famous clipper ship was one of the fastest sailing craft ever to take the water. She was built in Boston in 1851, by Donald McKay, perhaps the greatest figure in the history of American sailing ships. Her original owner was Enoch Train who operated a packet service from Boston to Liverpool. This was long before the Panama Canal had come into existence and ships, in order to reach the Pacific, had to sail around the southern tip of South America. With Josiah Perkins Cressy as captain, the Flying Cloud followed this route and made a record trip of 89 days from Boston to San Francisco. Such performances as this by sailing ships led American owners to concentrate on them and neglect, to their sorrow, the development of steamships.

Today's Birthday

FRANCIS BOWES SAYRE, born April 30, 1885, at South Bethlehem, Pa. This diplomat, now a professor of law at Harvard, was serving as high commissioner of the Philippines at the time of the Japanese invasion.

An assistant secretary of state under Cordell Hull, Sayre had charge of the reciprocal trade program. He also was an American representative to the United Nations trusteeship council.

New Seeding Plan Aimed at Saving Western Wastes

UKIA, Ore. (UP) —Wood-chip seeding experiments now in progress in this area may make it possible to reclaim hundreds of thousands of barren acreages throughout the west.

Charles Rector, Umatilla Forest supervisor, said the experimentation includes nine plots which have been seeded with grass and covered with wood chips.

If the experiments prove successful, huge acreages of virtually useless land can be transformed into useful watersheds or grazing land.

The object is to use wood chips as a moisture-holding cover which will prevent the grass from dying out when the dry season arrives. Forestry experts believe the grass, after it has had a chance to take firm root, can withstand the dry weather after the wood chips are removed.

Another aim of researchers is to find a use for sawmill slash which has not been turned into a useful product to date. Huge amounts of slash—or wood cuttings—are available throughout the Pacific Northwest.

The project already has been successful on gentle slopes with rich soil. But the experimentation now is aimed at land which has been unsuitable to earlier reclamation methods.

Foresters report they should know the results of their experiments by the end of this summer. However, from two to three years will be needed to determine whether the program will be a permanent success.

Cicadas often are called locusts because when American colonists first saw them they feared a plague like those they had read about in the Bible.

Crestline Guild Plans Iron Lung Project

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE — The project of making an iron lung for Crestline Emergency Hospital was suggested by Herbert Klopfenstein at the meeting of Crestline Work Shop Guild in the home of Harry Byers at Galion Monday night. A general discussion followed, but no definite action was taken.

C. E. Iman, chairman of church support of the Kiwanis Club was present and requested signs for all four roads leading into Crestline with church names and time of service for visitors going through town. Herbert Klopfenstein and Vernon Wallrath will draw up the plans and the club will make the signs. The project for the evening was a coffee table top.

The amendment would strike directly at Texas and Florida. The pending bill recognizes their claims to three leagues—10½ miles—in the Gulf of Mexico.

If You Finance Your Car

Be sure to ask to have it insured with a local agent, who will take a personal interest in seeing that you get good service. His bread and butter depends on that.

An out of town agent suggested by a Finance Company would not be expected to have the same interest in you that your friendly Local Agent would have.

Wouldn't you rather have your insurance at home. It's up to you.

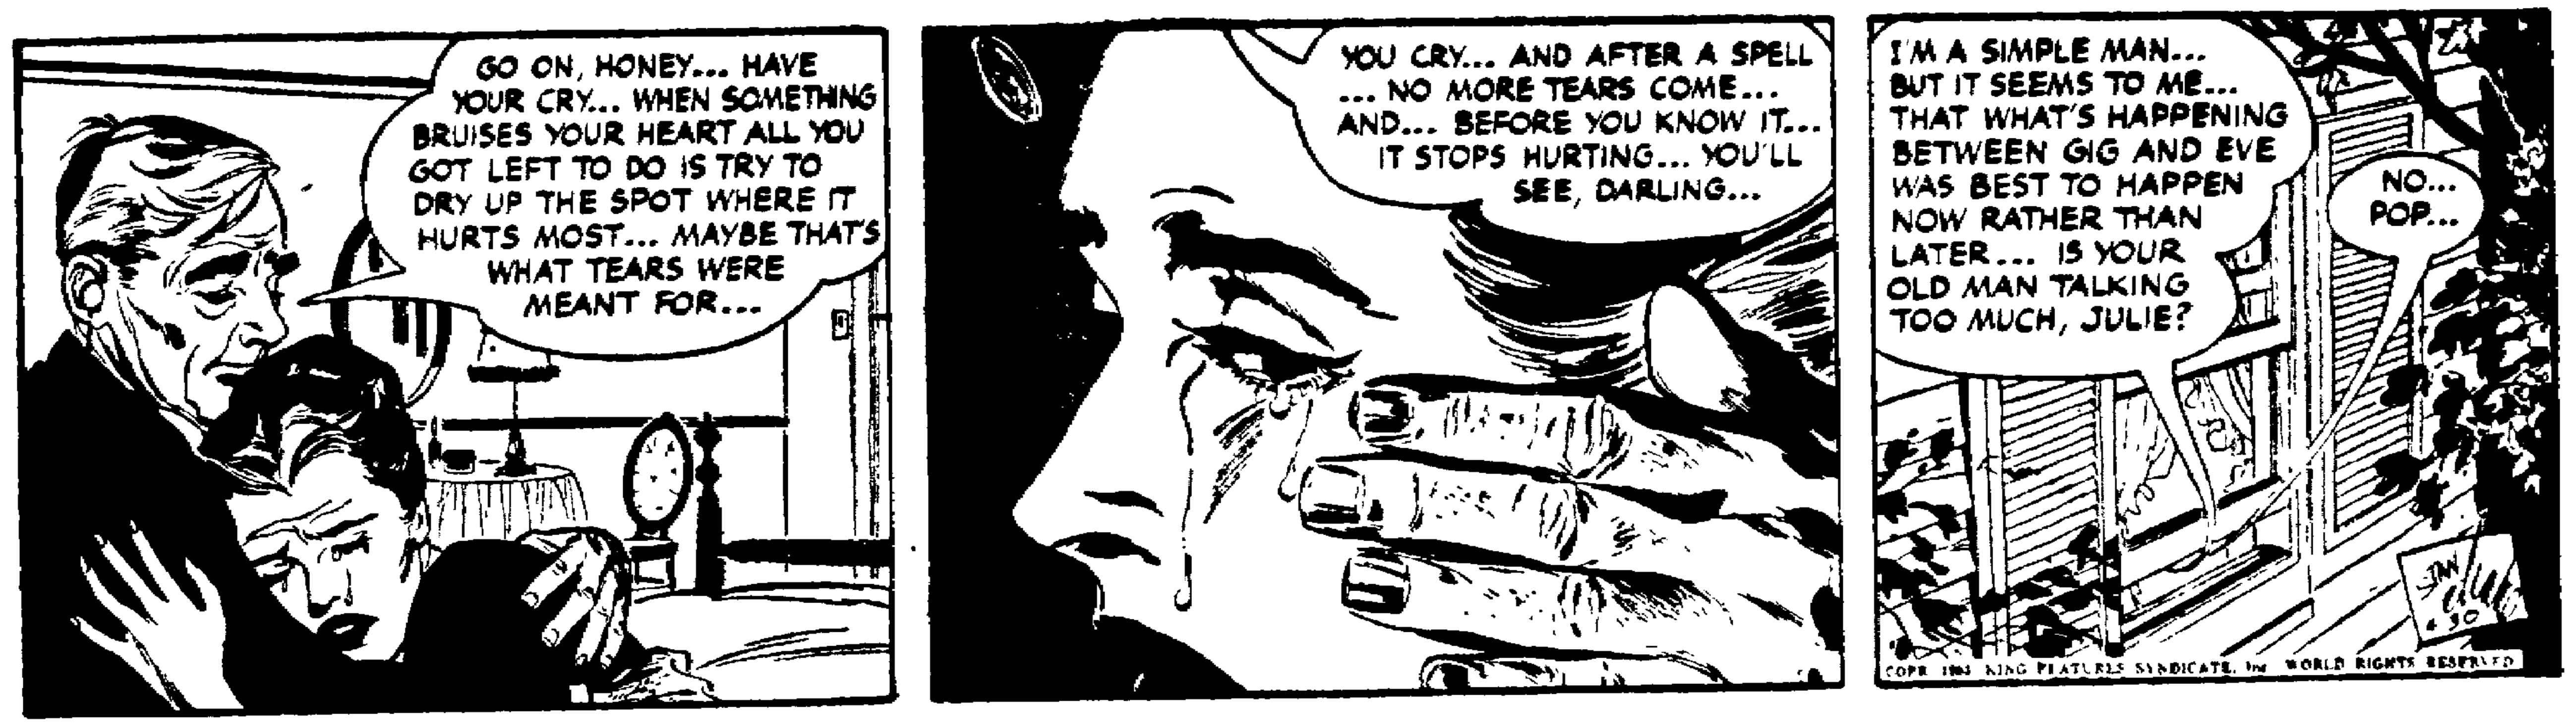
MRS. OLSON IS LYING DOWN, COL. CANYON! SHE WOULDN'T LET ME SEND FOR A MEDIC TO TREAT HER FOR SHOCK!
THANKS, PIPPER! WE'D BETTER STICK AROUND IN CASE THAT MOB ACTS UP AGAIN!
COME IN, STEVE!
I HAD HOPED YOU WERE ASLEEP... AFTER THE SHOCK YOU'VE HAD, YOU COULD USE SHUTEYE!
PLENTY OF TIME TO SLEEP WHEN I LEAVE INDIAN CAPE...
THEN YOU'RE STILL CONVINCED THAT WORKING FOR THE COPPERHEAD IS BETTER THAN BEING MRS. CANYON!
AW, HONEY, DON'T CRY! I SHOULDN'T HAVE SAID THAT WHEN YOU'RE SO UPSET!
SOMEHOW, PIP, YOU HAVE A GENIUS FOR BEING IN THE RIGHT PLACES AT THE WRONG TIME!

The Heart of Juliet Jones By Stan Drake



GO ON, HONEY... HAVE YOUR CRY... WHEN SOMETHING BRUISES YOUR HEART ALL YOU GOT LEFT TO DO IS TRY TO DRY UP THE SPOT WHERE IT HURTS MOST... MAYBE THAT'S WHAT TEARS WERE MEANT FOR...
YOU CRY... AND AFTER A SPELL ... NO MORE TEARS COME... AND... BEFORE YOU KNOW IT... IT STOPS HURTING... YOU'LL SEE, DARLING...
I'M A SIMPLE MAN... BUT IT SEEMS TO ME... THAT WHAT'S HAPPENING BETWEEN GIG AND EVE WAS BEST TO HAPPEN NOW RATHER THAN LATER... IS YOUR OLD MAN TALKING TOO MUCH, JULIE?
NO... POP...

Hope Seen in Use Of TB Vaccines For Leprosy

HONOLULU (UP) — Use of anti-tuberculosis vaccines to combat dreaded Hansen's disease (leprosy) has been revealed here, with heartening results which give new hope to sufferers and doctors alike.

Hawaii is the site of a Hansen's tuberculin, were then remixed with blood from Hansens' disease patients. Finally, blood from tuberculosis patients was added.

The studies showed blood from the different types of patients showed the same kind of reaction.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Victor disease settlement, located at Kalaupapa on the little island of Molokai.

The microorganism that causes Hansen's disease belongs to the same family as the microorganism that causes tuberculosis.

Hope has been raised that shots with vaccine made from tuberculosis bacteria may be used to immunize children of Hansen's disease sufferers from their parents' malady. The doctors know that the most common spread of the leprous ailment is within the family.

In Hawaii, children of Hansen's disease sufferers are separated from their parents immediately after birth, under supervision of the territorial health department. None of the children has since developed the disease.

Hansen's disease bacteria will not grow in a test tube, but the related tuberculosis bacteria will.

Using a method developed by French scientists, the local researchers have sensitized sheep cells to tuberculosis products. The sensitized red cells, mixed with Rizzea has no complaints about this country. He's just happy to be here.

Two years ago, Victor arrived from his native Sicily. Daily now he gets up at 4 a.m. and keeps going steadily until 6 or 7 p.m.

He works for both local newspapers, shovels snow, runs errands and does odd jobs. He also attends school.

It's not the money alone, Vic says—it's nice to have a chance to earn his own way.

Quite a gift—from a 12-year-old boy.
